Coroner, Photographer First State Witnesses

'Dr. Carroll, Sheriff's Son Give Details

Defendant Bears Mark Of Fall In 'Another Attack'

Pickaway County Coroner Dr. Ray Carroll and Sheriff's Photographer Dwight Radcliff were the first witnesses to testify Wednesday morning in the first-degree murder trial of Mary Agnes Ruff in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Both Dr. Carroll and Radcliff, son of Sheriff Charles Radcliff, submitted items for use as exhibits in the first formal day of trying the 34-year-old farm wife accused of murdering her husband.

Dr. Carroll presented bits of metal which he said were taken from the head of Daniel E. Ruff Jr., 35, found shot to death in his farm home near South Bloomfield on Jan. 15.

The coroner also introduced the fact of a "mystery bullet," telling the court there had been three bullet holes in the dead man's head while he believed only two slugs were found within.

AUTHORITIES have frequently pointed out the fragments probably represented two bullets instead of a single slug, as at first believed. Carroll said "the third bullet" was never found despite "an exhaustive search." Nearly a dozen x-ray photographs were taken in an unrewarding effort to find it in the corpse.

Chief purpose of the coroner's testimony was to tell of routine identifications and describe the condition of the body when found.

Carroll testified the absence of powder burns indicated the gun had been held at least 12 inches away from the victim.

HE SAID he estimated the bullets were .22-caliber, basing the estimate on his own professional medical experience.

Dwight Radcliff, sheriff's photographer, followed the coroner to the witness stand.

Most of Radcliff's testimony prior to the noon recess related to his photographic experience and photographs he took at the scene of the slaying.

Carroll was called as first witness for the state when court began at 9:30 a. m.

Mrs. Ruff had a fresh abrasion in the center of her forehead. Defense attorneys said she had "another attack" early Wednesday morning in Pickaway County jail, and that she struck her head in falling.

There was a 15-minute delay before Dr. Carroll appeared. The courtroom's 120 spectator seats were nearly all filled by the time court convened.

Mrs. Ruff sat at defense counsel's table between Attorneys Joe Adkins and Paul Gingham. Most of the time, while awaiting Dr. Carroll's arrival, she looked steadily at the table in front of her and spoke only in reply to questions by her attorneys.

DR. CARROLL, in office as coroner less than two weeks at the time of the slaying, told briefly of his medical training in reply to questions. (Continued on Page Two)

Turnpike Probe Being Demanded

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee considered today whether to authorize an investigation of alleged maladministration, chicanery and rigged specifications by the Ohio Turnpike Commission.

Sen. Fred W. Danner (R-Summit) leveled the accusations in support of his bill to create a six-member Senate-House group to make the inquiry. He said he lacked evidence of any criminal activity by the turnpike commission. But he said people have lost confidence in the group created to build a 241-mile toll super-road across Northern Ohio.

Adenauer Seeks Aid For Refugees

WASHINGTON (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was reported today seeking special American financial help in handling floods of refugees from Communist-ruled East Germany.

Adenauer was reported hopeful of U. S. financial backing for building big housing projects in West Germany, mainly to help absorb refugees. About 1,500 men, women and children daily are slipping through the Communist Iron Curtain into West Berlin.

ATOMIC EXPLOSION cloud spreads over the Nevada desert at about 30,000 feet following most recent atomic blast which was detonated at "more than 5,000 feet above" the earth. The device was dropped from a B-50. This explosion was highest so far of the 25 in the U. S. The Nagasaki bomb went off at 1,800 feet.

Conneaut Sees Another Wreck

CONNEAUT (AP)—Wrecking crews today were clearing the New York Central Railroad's east-west tracks of the second clutter of derailed cars here in 10 days.

Just four miles west of the spot where three of the road's trains collided March 27 and killed 21 persons, a New York-to-Chicago express mail and baggage train derailed Tuesday night. A brakeman, D. S. Eppler of Erie, Pa., the only casualty, was treated for a minor injury.

U. S., Belgian Units Halt Red Thrust

SEOUL (AP)—Chinese Reds slammed into Allied defenses in western and central Korea today, but battle-toughened American Marines and Belgian infantrymen sent the Communists reeling back.

B26 bombers wiped out 130 Red trucks on North Korean highways during the night, while fighter-bombers blasted three rail bridges and a radio station at Haeju, in Western Korea.

Chinese Reds in company strength—about 175 men—stormed up Bunker Hill on the western front but were blocked by a Marine combat patrol.

The attack carried some Communists into Allied lines but sharp-shooting Leathernecks stopped the Reds cold in 11 minutes of bitter, close-quarter fighting.

Northeast of Chorwon on the central front, another Red company hit the main line positions of the Belgian battalion attached to the U. S. 3rd Infantry Division. The battle was all over 80 minutes after the first shots were fired.

Elsewhere, Chinese troops still held a central front outpost called Texas Hill, which changed hands four times Tuesday. South Koreans knocked Reds off the strategic hill twice, only to lose it each time.

Sporadic fighting crackled around the hill early Wednesday.

'Slayer' Sticks To His Story

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frederick Pope, a wandering costume jewelry salesman who says he killed a man who strangled a Connecticut school girl, told his complicated story here today to Det. R. N. Stark of the Connecticut State Police.

'Open House' Due In CHS, Corwin School

An "open house" program will be observed all day Thursday in Circleville's high school and Corwin St. building.

The special "open house" program will mark the informal opening of the new industrial arts building put into operation this year and the new school cafeteria.

In addition, a display of the work of pupils throughout the school may be seen in the classrooms and halls of the main building.

Visitors during the special program also will be able to see classes in operation during the day, since regular class schedules will be followed by the pupils and their teachers.

SUPERINTENDENT Frank Fischer said the best time to visit the new industrial arts building will be from 10:30 a. m. until noon, when classes will be occupying all parts of the building.

Actual visiting hours will be from 9 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. during the day, with evening visiting hours beginning at 7 p. m. and incorporating a monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association at 8 p. m. in the auditorium.

Light refreshments will be served by the PTA in the new cafeteria following the meeting.

Invitations for everyone to attend the day-long program at any time have been made by the Circleville Teachers' Association, board of education and the school administrators.

Highlight of the special displays prepared for visitors will be a science exhibit set up by the Science Organization of the school.

The Science Organization is a new group formed this year under the direction of Eugene Akers. It is not in competition socially with other school groups but to stimulate interest in science.

Special exhibit for the public will consist of displays from technical institutions in an effort to illustrate the tremendous opportunities which lie ahead in science for the youth of today.

Next year, the organization plans to delve into radio and electronics. It also is seeking to obtain science scholarships for deserving members.

Casualties Jump

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today reported 1,039 additional battle casualties in Korea, raising the war toll of American killed, wounded and missing to 132,967.

Korean Peace Terms Studied By Officials

Moving Of Dividing Line Northward From 38th Parallel Talked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plans to make a permanent peace for war-torn Korea and perhaps negotiate with the Communists on other critical Far Eastern issues are beginning to shape up here as true prospects brighten.

One idea receiving official consideration, it was understood today, is that any long-term peace arrangements should provide for a north-south dividing line at the narrow waist of the peninsula about 80 miles north of present battle lines.

Under provisions already worked out, an armistice would become effective along this present line. However, some authorities here believe this would not make a workable division of the country over a long period.

The battle line is generally already north of Parallel 38, which divided North and South Korea before the Red attack. The Communists presumably would object to any northward shift.

The belief is that the South Korean government would accept a border at the Korean waist since this would give it control over approximately 85 per cent of the country. Such an arrangement would reduce the North Korean position to a minimum, just short of extinction.

IT WOULD, however, leave a buffer zone between South Korea and major Red Chinese and Soviet interests in Manchuria and Siberia. (Continued on Page Two)

Arms Plants Expansion Cut Seen Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson's reported proposals to spend less on the expansion of munitions plants and to emphasize production of weapons, which looked like a sure-thing controversy, smoothed out today into scarcely a ripple.

Officials of the Office of Defense Mobilization, which favors building a broad industrial "base" for swift mobilization, including standby plants and equipment and other administration aides said privately:

1. President Eisenhower intends to make personally the final decisions on both mobilization policy and military spending. This rules out any civilian - versus - military contest of power.

2. ODM people favor some of Wilson's ideas, admit that some of ODM's original plans were over-ambitious, and profess to see no reason why Wilson's views cannot be reconciled with theirs.

They yield not an inch, however, in the position that adequate armaments capacity, ready to produce on short notice, is a "must" for national security and does not exist today. All parties are content, it was indicated, to let the President shape the military programs to suit the developing international situation as he sees it, and the country's strategic plans.

Auto Workers Get Pay Slashes

DETROIT (AP)—Ford, Chrysler and a host of other auto firms are expected to follow General Motors' lead soon and lop a penny an hour off the wages of their employees.

Within a couple weeks possibly a million or more auto workers will take the cut under cost-of-living wage contracts. General Motors announced it was knocking one cent off the wages of its 397,000 hourly rated employees. About 98,000 non-union salaried employees will be given a proportionate pay reduction.

Russia Withdraws Pressure For Its Disarmament Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky today urged Western countries to "meet the Soviet Union half way" in an effort to reach agreement on the question of disarmament.

In a brief speech to the UN's 60-nation General Assembly, Vishinsky claimed that "in an effort to reach agreement the Soviet delegation deems it possible not to press for adoption of its own resolution."

That draft, which the assembly's political committee defeated, called for immediate prohibition of the atomic bomb and a one-third across the board arms cut by all the big powers.

UN sources said a search of the records showed that this is the first time in the UN's seven-year-long debate on disarmament that Russia has failed to revive a defeated proposal in the assembly. It is also the first time that a Soviet spokesman has discussed disarmament without coupling it with a violent attack on the U. S.

Vishinsky, in a calm voice, urged the committee to adopt two amendments which the Soviet Union has proposed to a majority-supported Western resolution.

The Western plan calls for the UN's Disarmament Commission, established last year, to continue its efforts to work out an agreed solution to world disarmament and genuine international control of atomic energy.

It contained a word of praise for the work the commission has done so far and reaffirmed the assembly resolution establishing it with its terms of reference.

These are the two sections which the Soviet amendments would remove.

Vishinsky said the reason he wanted them taken out was that "they were not, at the time, acceptable to the Soviet Union" and said reaffirmation now "places us in a rather embarrassing position."

The Indonesian delegate took the floor immediately afterwards to say that "in view of the statement by the USSR, it is our view that the Soviet amendment may provide a starting point for progress." He said Indonesia would vote for the resolution as a whole if the amendments were adopted.

Should the Russian amendments be rejected, the Soviets are expected to vote against the resolution continuing the disarmament group. It appears certain of endorsement by the Assembly, however, and the Soviets are expected to continue sitting on the commission.

Russian Delegate Valerian A. Zorin told the Political Committee Tuesday Moscow would not press details of its old germ warfare charges against the U. S. if the Americans would drop demands for an impartial investigation. The Russians also want the Americans to ratify the 1925 Geneva Convention banning bacterial weapons.

Probers Wary On Linking Clergy, Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators spoke somewhat warily today of how far they intend to go in following up sworn testimony linking five Boston ministers to the Communist underground.

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) said the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee has made no decision on the extent, if any, to which its probe for Red influences in education will branch out to encompass the clergy.

Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ), another subcommittee member, called it "a delicate matter" requiring careful consideration.

Their comments were made in separate interviews after Herbert A. Philbrick, 36-year-old former counter-spy for the FBI in the Red underground, told the subcommittee "the Communist party plants and places ministers."

In the 1947-49 period, he testified, he belonged to a "deeply secret" Communist cell composed of 70 to 80 persons he described as "cultural leaders" in the Boston area.

Philbrick said he, a Christian, was shocked to discover that among this group were seven to eight "hardened, steeled, disciplined" Communists "posing as ministers of the gospel."

He added that, as far as he could determine, all of them had been Communists before becoming clergymen. He also testified that at least five of them are still serving as ministers there.

$30 Million Pact At A-Plant Let

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced today award of a $30 million subcontract to George Koch Sons, Inc., Evansville, Ind., for sheet metal construction work at AEC's new gaseous diffusion plant being built in Pike County, Ohio.

It was awarded by Peter Kiewit Sons Co., general contractor for the project, on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis. The Koch firm will install all sheet metal, heat and ventilation systems, process and pipe enclosures on the project. The AEC said this work will take four years.

Count Again, UN Spokesman Tells Enemy

Only About 100 Yanks On First List Handed To West Negotiators

MUNSAN (AP)—The Communists today said they are ready to send home 600 disabled prisoners of war. The chief Allied negotiator asked for a recount, and added: "I have hopes we will get more."

Observers here predicted that only slightly more than 100 Americans will be exchanged.

Rear Adm. John C. Daniel told the Communists their figure was "incredibly small," and asked "that you have these figures reviewed." He said, however, that "I have no reason to believe at the present time that they are not acting in good faith."

The UN Command offered to return 5,800 sick and wounded Communists—5,100 North Koreans and 700 Chinese. This is 7 per cent of the 83,000 pro-Communist prisoners and 4 per cent of all prisoners held by the Allies.

THE COMMUNIST figure of 600 is 5 per cent of the 12,000 to 13,000 UN and Korean prisoners the Reds have said they hold. Both sides named lower-level staff officers to work out administrative details of the exchange. The UN Command appointed Col. Willard B. Carlock of Galveston, Tex.; Air Force Col. Douglas Karins of Riverside, Calif., and South Korean Col. Lee Soo Yung. The Communists named North Korean Col. Lee Pyong Il and Chinese Col. Wang Ching.

The staff officers went into session immediately after the liaison groups adjourned for the day.

Daniel asked the Communists for a complete revised text of the whole draft agreement on transfer of sick and wounded so the UN Command could consider any changes "in one package and arrive speedily to the items which are controversial." The Communists have agreed to the main points of Daniel's plan, and said they will submit their versions of the rest.

The Allied protest on the Communist offer was the stiffest statement yet made in the three-day-old conference. It was the first note of discord in the otherwise smooth negotiations which Tuesday resulted

Private Firms To Get Atom Energy OK

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the Atomic Energy Commission soon will take a step toward opening the way for commercial development of atomic energy for power, through private competition.

A Washington dispatch by W. H. Lawrence said the AEC will recommend to Congress that the federal government "end its absolute monopoly" on the possession and development of fissionable materials for atomic energy production.

The AEC recommendation, the story added, will be with the approval of President Eisenhower and the National Security Council.

The impending move, Lawrence wrote, "is regarded as underlining the nation's desire to push the development of atomic energy for peaceful purposes, instead of concentrating on weapons."

Noting that by June 30 the government will have spent about $8.8 billion on the new source of energy, the story said, the plan is predicated on the assumption that the United Nations is not likely to adopt international control of atomic energy, and therefore it is tailored to meet a purely domestic situation.

Hospital Aided

DETROIT (AP)—Harper Hospital disclosed today receipt of a gift of approximately $100,000 in the form of 1,500 shares of General Motors common stock from Secretary of Defense C. E. Wilson.

Despite All Science, Drill Is Key To Oil

You Still Must Bore A Hole To Tell If Liquid Gold Present

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Science comes increasingly to the aid of the man looking for oil—whether under dry land or under the ocean bed. It uses every device from the airplane to atomic gadgets to locate oil.

But oilmen say in spite of all the aid science is giving them of late, there's still only one way to find oil—drill a hole and see if there's oil at the bottom of it.

And the chances still are that there won't be. Many more dry holes are drilled than producing wells, the American Petroleum Institute reports.

Oil prospecting tools and methods are constantly being improved, however. And this year the oil industry may spend around 2½ billion dollars in drilling and producing. It spent just over two billion dollars last year, and found more new oil than the record amount of petroleum it pumped, so the nation's oil reserves are higher than ever.

Many sciences unite in helping the oil prospector decide whether it's worth while drilling a hole at a certain place. The oil and gas journal lists some of them: Geology, geophysics, paleontology, mineralogy, chemistry, botany, mathematics, seismology, and nuclear physics. Oil prospectors are likely to use some or all of these in seeking new oil fields.

The airplane is used increasingly. Aerial photography speeds up mapping. Airborne magnetometers are used in prospecting over water covered areas. This instrument locates broad changes in underground formations.

Airborne scintillometers pick up radioactive radiations beneath the earth's surface. Low radiation is usually found over oil fields and high radiation around them.

The device works something like the atomic "eye" and "searchlight" sometimes used in wells, either completed ones or as they are being drilled.

The eye can see through the steel casing and record the radiation, and the searchlight can tell whether the rock holding the oil is porous enough to let it flow out. This device aids the driller in telling whether he is bypassing a likely oil formation.

Locked Doors At Ruff Home Ease Tense Trial's Routine

Deputy Sheriff Carl White gambled his clean, trim uniform Tuesday afternoon and thereby kept an unexpected problem from blocking routine of the Ruff murder trial here.

When jurors selected to hear testimony in the trial of Mary Agnes Ruff were taken to the farmhouse where the state claims she fatally shot her husband, an embarrassing situation became obvious. No one had the key to the vacant dwelling!

Coming as it did as an unforeseen sidelight in a story filled with tragedy, the interlude furnished a brief but welcome breathing spell from the tension of the courtroom proceedings.

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles Radcliff jokingly remarked that it would be awful to have him caught "breaking and entering" — with news photographers present. Others in the group looked over their own assortment of keys to see if they had anything which might fit the front door of the home, located on Route 23 near South Bloomfield.

STILL OTHERS, in an optimistic way, poked around in hopes of finding an unlocked window. But there was no easy way in.

AFL, CIO Talking Merger Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL and CIO, talking merger again, have started out by trying to eliminate a source of friction between them.

Leaders of the two big labor organizations yesterday named a six-man group to try to work out an agreement against "raiding." This is the attempt by one union to replace another as bargaining representative in an already organized plant or industry.

Both AFL President George Meany and CIO President Walter Reuther told newsmen they knew such practices were going on and that they ought to stop.

Named to the post was Kenneth Ray Varner, who is to assume his new duties July 1. Varner, born in Marion, presently is in the registrar's office at the University of Tennessee.

Taft Predicts Ike To Get Re-Election

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) predicted today that President Eisenhower will run again in 1956 and be re-elected.

Persistent, although unverified, reports have circulated in Washington that Eisenhower wants only one term. He told a news conference Feb. 25 he had probably made as many facetious remarks on the subject as his friends could bear and wasn't ready for a serious declaration.

Taft, the Senate majority leader, said in an interview, he never had heard any one-term suggestion from the President or his intimates. Taft said that in any event he firmly believes Eisenhower will be convinced he ought to seek a second term when the time comes.

"It will be inevitable that the pressure will build up on him from within the party," Taft said. "When the party has a man in the White House the pressure always builds up to keep him there."

"When the time comes, the President will be told that only by running again can he prevent a split in the party and make sure of its success at the polls."

Taft's comment came after he had agreed, evidently somewhat reluctantly, to the choice of former Rep. Leonard W. Hall of New York as Republican national chairman—a selection expected to be ratified by the national committee here Friday.

It is an open secret among the Ohio senator's intimates that Taft would have preferred a chairman less closely identified than Hall is with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the 1944 and 1948 GOP presidential nominee.

Taft apparently based his acceptance on a belief that Eisenhower is going to continue to dominate party policy for the next eight years.

City Backs Planning Group On Expansion; Awaits Plan

Cincinnati's lawmakers Tuesday night passed lightly over a matter linked to the city's expansion program and then, almost at the last minute, twisted it into one of the wildest parliamentary snarls Council has had in the last year.

Between the early action and the later, confused debate, several matters of routine business were also given their share of attention.

The tangle over the correct way to handle the detail on city expansion centered on a request by Frank L. Gorsuch, Lancaster builder, for Council's attitude toward annexation of the Martin property in the northeastern section of the city.

Gorsuch holds an option on the property until May 1 and is anxious to know what help he can expect from the city if he proceeds with housing plans.

Early in the meeting, Council was read a letter from the builder in which he urged steps be taken toward annexation of the area. The letter was placed on file.

LATER, IN ANOTHER communication read to Council, the reorganized city zoning and planning commission—while not opposing the annexation or development of the area—warned that care must be taken to have it coordinated with a master plan now being drawn to guide all of the city expansion efforts.

The commission explained a plan of the proposed Gorsuch sub-division has been submitted and it was hoped it could be quickly fitted into the overall plans of the planning unit.

However, the commission asked that Council refrain from any commitments of a type that would throw plans of the sub-division out of line with the commission's master planning.

Explaining the letter, Commission Chairman Bob Adkins stressed his group is working as rapidly as possible and that it will be pleased to have the sub-division made a part of the city.

At the same time he pointed out that Council, at this time, should not try to promise too much until the commission's own planning is further advanced.

Most of Council appeared willing to go along with the commission's request, but apparently neglected to signify its willingness in correct parliamentary manner.

Councilman John Robinson called attention to the fact that the matter had been disposed of in a hazy manner, and Councilman Ray Cook said the whole question had been left hanging in air.

ABOUT THAT time, Councilman George Crites emphasized Gorsuch could only wait until May 1 for some definite assurance by Council. Crites warned that the lawmakers must be careful not to discourage the proposed development while waiting for the master plan.

"We don't know how long it's going to take to get the master plan," he declared.

While indicating willingness to respect the desires of the commission, he also asked that some steps be taken to assure the builder.

In the resultant discussion on how best to go about this, the lawmakers had difficulty in agreeing on what action they had taken and what its effect would be.

Several moves to untangle the question were launched, but new angles were voiced—or old ones revived—every time Clerk of Council Fred Nicholas proceeded to read or call the roll.

This was largely due to the fact it hadn't been clarified as to what should be read or what the reason would be for calling the roll.

In the final adjustment, it appeared Council voted to go along with the commission—at least until "further information" can be obtained at Council's next meeting.

Council also: Heard a letter in which Cincinnati Kiwanis Club withdrew an offer to help toward a proposed fluoridation of the city's water supply. The offer was withdrawn, the club's communication said, in view of lack of action on the part of the city.

HEARD A LETTER from owners of the Valentine farm in which Council was notified the property is being prepared as a sub-division, thus presenting another item to be considered as part of the expansion program.

Authorized an advance of $10,000 to keep the general fund operating until anticipated tax funds are received.

Passed an ordinance, on first reading, to transfer $1,840.20 from the service department to the general fund, thus returning money used from the fund to buy equipment for the department last year.

Adopted a resolution authorizing a street light on Park Place Drive.

Shortly before adjournment, Councilman Boyd Horn warned Council that "our janitor deserves a raise in pay." No action was taken.

In the final comment of the meeting, Crites denounced alleged discrimination against colored persons who seek jobs in Cincinnati on contract projects and at local firms.

"The discrimination against colored people in this town is something we should be ashamed of," Crites declared.

Staggering School Load Is Predicted

NEW YORK (AP)—You can expect to see a whopping 30 million pupils years from now, says Dr. N. L. Engelhardt Jr. noted educational consultant.

If present birth rates continue, says Engelhardt, associated with the research and educational consulting firm of Engelhardt, Engelhardt and Leggett, the United States by 1978 will have 13 million more pupils than the 1952-53 enrollment in kindergarten through the sixth grade. He made his comments after completing a school population study for his firm.

To meet this staggering load, he warns, each community must do its long-range planning now to insure top use of its facilities and finances then.

As an indication of things to come, Engelhardt says, "Heavy kindergarten enrollments this year are the result of the large number of births in 1947—but 1951 broke 1947's record in births, and 1952 has set an all-time high."

The full effect of these figures—between 1947 and 1952—will not be felt in the elementary schools until 1958. Junior high schools will feel the full impact about 1959. Enrollment in senior high schools, climbing slowly at present, will increase sharply following 1961.

This means, Engelhardt says, that for every six elementary classrooms in use in 1952-53, your community's schools will need, within five years, an additional room—or more, if you have not been keeping up with enrollment increases.

For every 100 pupils in junior high school today, you may expect 140 by 1961.

For every 100 pupils in senior high school today, you may expect 150 by 1965.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Those in favor of giving the states the submerged lands off their shores say: "Give it to them out to their historic boundaries." But those who want the government to keep those lands ask: "Out to what historic boundaries? What are they and where are they?"

It would be a smart man who could convince everyone he had the answer. Because the legislation, which Congress is now preparing to pass, is so vague on that question the Supreme Court may have to solve the problem, perhaps years from now, thus piling legal snarls on all those that have gone before.

Yet the answer is worth billions of dollars because the submerged lands off California, Texas and Louisiana are rich with oil. President Eisenhower's attorney general, Herbert Brownell, asked Congress before it approved the measure it is now considering, to draw a line, showing what the boundaries are. That might be the solution to the endless question about boundaries, he said, and if Congress didn't do it, there might be a long fight ending up in the Supreme Court. But Congress ignored him on this. Now Congress is getting ready to pass a bill which, in effect, says this:

All states will own the submerged lands seaward from their shores for three miles and any lands beyond that if they can prove they have a just claim to them. What would be a just claim?

What this may mean in future revenue, for the states or the federal government, can be seen from this: The estimated oil potential off California is two billion barrels, with more than half of it within the three miles. California has far less to gain than Louisiana and Texas by fighting to claim lands beyond three miles.

The potential oil reserve off Louisiana has been estimated at four billion barrels, with only 250 million inside the three-mile limit and 3 1/2 billion barrels beyond that point. But the estimated potential for Texas is nine billion barrels, with 400 million within the three-mile limit, 800 million more between 3 and 10 1/2 miles, and 7,800,000,000 beyond 10 1/2 miles.

While it was still a republic, before entering the union in 1845, Texas claimed a seaward boundary of 10 1/2 miles. But in 1947 the State Legislature claimed ownership of all the submerged lands off Texas out to the edge of the continental shelf, a distance of perhaps 135 miles.

Louisiana's Legislature in 1938 decided the State's seaward boundary was 27 1/2 miles. But was that 27 1/2 miles from the shoreline of the land mass of Louisiana or 27 1/2 miles from the state's outermost island in the Gulf of Mexico, 10 1/2 miles from shore?

The representative that Louisiana sent up here to explain his state's case to the Senate, Atty. Gen. Fred S. LeBlanc, was helpless on the boundary question. He

Sensational Hospital Tested Laxative

MAY DO AWAY WITH ALL PRESENT LAXATIVES

93% Chronic Constipation Cases Conquered Easily This Safe, New Way

Extensive hospital tests of this new laxative formula on persons suffering from stubborn chronic constipation, reveal amazing results. It offers real hope to all men, and women, young and old—even the aged and sick.

Doctors report such tremendous success that the INERGEL formula may actually do away with all present laxatives.

Here are results of tests reported in the medical magazines on 378 men and women ranging in age from 10 to 90. All had suffered from acute cases of stubborn, aggravated constipation. Many were miserable, only as those who are tortured by persistent, continued, hard, sluggish bowel movements can be. Some were even bed-ridden!

93% Report Success

Within days 353 of the 378 ailing people report enjoying pleasant, regular, easy bowel movements without griping or irritation. INERGEL is a tasteless tablet, absolutely safe and harmless. It is non-habit forming, non-toxic and non-irritating. INERGEL just can't be compared—in any way—with harsh, purging irritants, or nourishment-robbing mineral oils.

Here's How INERGEL Works

INERGEL is not a harsh, overnight purge. It is a medically approved bulk-producing laxative, that gently helps restore regularity. Only bulk laxatives were recommended in Reader's Digest famous article. INERGEL is water absorbent and changes to a soft jelly-like substance. It lubricates and actually protects tender intestines, while softening all hard, stubborn substances, to bring pleasant, healthy elimination. Yes, even old, ailing people, and folks with hemorrhoids can take INERGEL with safety and confidence.

Doctors everywhere now prescribe the INERGEL formula as a safe, positive laxative for chronic constipation. Get INERGEL tablets today at said he couldn't say what it was and that if the current legislation is approved by Congress the Supreme Court may have to decide.

Texas' former attorney general, Sen. Daniel, told the Senate last week that Texas' legal claim to submerged lands is really only 10 1/2 miles. That doesn't mean Congress couldn't later extend such a boundary. After listening to the statement of Daniel, Sen. Douglas, Illinois Democrat and an opponent of giving the submerged lands to the states, tackled Sen. Cordon, Oregon Republican, one of the supporters of the idea.

Douglas asked Cordon if he agreed with Daniel, that Texas' boundary should be only 10 1/2 miles. Cordon said he wouldn't agree or disagree. When Douglas then pressed him to explain just what Texas' legal boundary is, Cordon said Douglas would have to get the answer from the Supreme Court.

Before this country became a nation some of the colonies claimed jurisdiction over vast tracts of the sea. Virginia claimed it for 1,000 miles out from shore, New Hampshire for 100 miles.

It was Thomas Jefferson, when he was secretary of state in 1793, who proclaimed U. S. government jurisdiction over the sea out to a three-mile limit. He did this long before oil was thought of and for dealing with other nations.

Change Of Leadership In Russia Much Like Change Of Neighbors

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—International problems are like neighborhood problems, except they come in a larger size.

And foreign countries are like the neighbors who live on our own street—if they'd just stay consistent some kind of community peace is possible.

The change of executive leadership in the vast house of Russia reminds me of a change of neighbors in our town when I was a boy.

There was a little white house across the way owned by old Mr. Crabbe, the neighborhood grouch. He built a white picket fence around it, and the fence started right at the sidewalk.

Old Mr. Crabbe didn't like anybody and never asked anybody to like him. He visited no one. No one visited him. If the kids played in the street hit a baseball into old Mr. Crabbe's front yard, they didn't get it back. He ran out and grabbed it.

But we learned how to deal with him. We moved the game up the street, stayed out of his yard, and there was no more trouble.

Finally old Mr. Crabbe died and went to heaven. He probably got him a new little house in the suburbs and whenever the cherubs up there knock a baseball into the yard I suppose he still runs out and grabs it, just as he did on earth. If life doesn't change people much, how can death?

A new neighbor named Mr. Fuddle moved into the little white house across the way. He had a wife, two children, and a one-eared bulldog.

Well, at first, Mr. Fuddle seemed the nicest fellow you ever saw. So did the whole family. Right friendly.

"Of course, you kids can play in the street in front of my house," he said. "If the ball lands in the yard, just climb over the fence and get it. I'd tear that fence down except that—well, fences have their places."

His one-eared bulldog played with our dogs, his two kids joined in the ball game, and Mr. Fuddle even came out and batted himself a few times.

Then Mr. and Mrs. Fuddle fell to quarreling regularly. Never did find out what it was about. Some family difference over money, or how they wanted their kids raised.

This not only upset all the Fuddles. It had the whole neighborhood in an uproar. Mr. and Mrs. Fuddle then started hollering at each other, the one-eared bulldog would race out and start biting our dogs. If we knocked a ball in the front yard, Mr. Fuddle would come out, pick it up and throw it at us. And the two Fuddle kids no longer joined in the game. Their parents would not let them. All they were allowed to do was to try to ambush us one at a time and try to knock our front teeth out.

Well, the Fuddles began calling the cops to break up our game, and the other neighbors began calling the cops to separate the fighting Fuddles, and soon everybody was saying:

"My, wasn't it a lot more peaceful when old Mr. Crabbe lived in that house? At least a soul knew where he stood. Nobody can figure out the Fuddles."

As I say, when I think of the change in Russia, I think of my old neighborhood. Old Mr. Stalin was, in many ways, like old Mr. Crabbe.

The new tenants of Soviet power—Malenkov and Co.—are making friendly noises. In fact, they are almost genial. But it remains to be seen whether they will give the world a longer stretch of peace than the Fuddles gave our community.

That's the trouble with new neighbors, little ones or big ones. Only time can prove the way

COASTAL COMPROMISE

CONGRESS HAS AGAIN put the machinery in motion to give coastal states undisputed title to offshore lands. The measure voted out by the Senate Interior Committee, however, leaves unsettled as many issues as it decides. Though it grants ownership as far as the states' "historic" boundaries—generally three miles out with the exception of Texas and West Florida where 10½-mile borders are claimed—the whole question of management and tax rights out to the end of the continental shelf remains unresolved.

The committee, backed by Attorney General Brownell, assigns control of the outer belt to the federal government, but the states with lush oil operations beyond the limit in sight will not accept the interpretation without a fight.

Here is evidence that there is never complete agreement over public lands. Dissatisfaction has long overhung the government's handling of the public domain in the Western states. Timber, grazing and mining interests are invariably seeking more favorable lease arrangements. Meanwhile states lose out because they are unable to levy taxes on federal lands.

That the federal government should continue to own land is anachronistic. Under the private enterprise system land should be owned by individuals. But states are more interested in the proposition of having the federal government pay taxes on its holdings, than in having them transferred to private ownership, except in the case of off-shore oil lands.

WAGES LEVELING OFF

SURVEYS INDICATE THERE will be no big industrial wage boosts this year except in isolated instances. Whereas the average of wage increases to big industrial unions averaged 15 cents per hour last year, boosts this year will represent less than half that, it is predicted.

For one thing, standard-of-living wages are now considerably ahead of the cost of living. The commodity index has risen only 0.6 per cent in a year. The leveling-off phase seems to be here.

There are hints of business recession sometime later, and employers will fight harder to keep their payrolls down. Big union members, having had a good wage boost year in 1952, are reported not to be putting much pressure on labor heads to demand big wage increases.

Now that a real effort is being made to control inflation, the employee may look forward to sizable wage boosts through an increased purchasing power for his dollar.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

When one goes among professors these days, it is startling to find that so many of them are jittery over the prospects of being called as witnesses before Congressional committees. Few are ever called. Not all are unfriendly witnesses; for instance, Dr. Harry D. Gideonse, president of Brooklyn College, Dr. William Jansen, superintendent of schools in New York City, Dr. Bella Dodd, former Communist, and Dr. William H. Withers, who had taught at Lehigh University, Teachers College of Columbia University, and Queens College, were friendly witnesses, aiding the Congressional committees with their expert knowledge.

Only those who have something to hide need fear these investigations.

Professor Withers testified that at one stage of his life, he was actually groomed to be a member of the Communist Party. He was then at New College, an institution for the education of teachers in which political activity was encouraged. He had joined the Teachers Union, he thinks, in 1935. He testified that "the Teachers Union was under Communist control at that time."

Dr. Withers was an active member of Local 537 of the Teachers Union situated at Teachers College. He testified before the Jenner Committee:

"... after 1937 I began to realize that the control of Local 537 was definitely Communist, and in 1939 a group of us who were non-Communists in Local 537 organized what we called an independent caucus, in which we attempted to defeat Communist propositions in the plenary sessions of the Union."

The value of Dr. Withers' testimony is that it confirms the pattern of deceit. It is not illegal for any man in this country to be a Communist; it is indecent to be deceitful. On this subject, Dr. Withers testified:

"... they did not usually admit publicly that they were Communists. In fact, officers of the union never admitted that. They attempted to follow a set of policies which presumably would be accepted by liberals generally. But nevertheless, their policies were always consistent with the Communist Party line."

"Senator (Willis) Smith. So the fact that members may not proclaim their identity as members of the Communist Party is no indication that they are not working as Communists wherever they are located?"

"Mr. Withers. That is true. In fact, it has often been a definite policy of the Communist Party to try to disguise membership, particularly in the case of a person who might be regarded as a front for the Communist Party. The higher up you are in the educational world, the greater the degree of reputation you have publicly, the less use you are to the Communist Party openly."

This statement was not made by a so-called witch-hunter; it was made by a professor of standing and experience who was speaking of his own knowledge. Had these Communistic professors proclaimed themselves, they would have had little influence upon other teachers and perhaps upon their students. They posed as liberals.

Cancer Is the Disturbance Of Body's Normal Cell Growth

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
NEXT to heart disease, cancer is at present the most frequent cause of death in the United States.

Actually, cancer is a disturbance of the normal growth of the cells that go to make up the different tissues of the body. Usually, these normal cells reproduce in an orderly manner, replacing the old ones when they are worn out. However, when cancer occurs, there is a wild, unlimited reproduction of the cells in the body. And as these wild uncontrolled cells reproduce in this unchecked manner, they cause destruction of the normal tissues.

May Spread
These wild cancer cells may spread to the blood vessels and may be transmitted by the blood vessels to other parts of the body, far separated from their origin. In its new location, the cancer grows as wildly as it did at the original site.

There are two general types of cancer. Cancer can occur in organs such as the rectum, mouth, intestines, or it can also occur in the tissues, such as the fat and ligaments that make up the supports of the body.

Many substances are thought to act as stimulants to the formation of cancer. Excessive exposure to sunlight, too great an intake of certain hormones, excessive exposure to X-ray or radium may all help to bring on a cancer. Certain coal tar and related products, when people are constantly near them, may also predispose to cancer. Overuse of tobacco may also lead to cancer.

Frequent Types

In men, probably the most frequent type of cancer is cancer of the stomach, and in women, cancer of the female organs is most common.

Cancers may be either slow-growing or may grow rapidly. Any abnormal symptoms occurring in a person of any age should be investigated by a physician. One thing about cancer is recognized—If caught early, it may be cured. So do not delay in consulting the doctor when symptoms occur. And persons past middle age should have an annual health audit or check-up, so if anything is developing, it can be discovered early.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
E. A. M.: I have a persistent itching around the rectum. Everything I have tried has failed. Have you any recommendations for treatment?

Answer: Usually itching of the rectum is relieved by a bland diet and the use of soft toilet tissue. The new antisthistamine creams are extremely helpful in the treatment of this disorder. If these methods do not help, surgery sometimes may clear it up. Better see your doctor.

WASHINGTON, April 8 — Sen. Joe McCarthy's interference in diplomatic negotiations with Greek ship owners allegedly carrying goods to Russia has brought him into another showdown clash with the Republican leadership of the Senate. His own colleagues now resent his tactics.

This backstage row explains why President Eisenhower was so slow to engage in open and angry controversy with the Wisconsin firebrand over his invasion of the executive jurisdiction. The White House has been informed that, as in the Bohlen case, the Senate itself will restrict McCarthy's extracurricular performances.

When he was attacking government subversives, he was invulnerable because critics might open themselves to countercharges that they were Communist sympathizers. But he has lowered his guard in his more recent bouts.

leader—Sen. Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado, Senate Finance Committee chairman. Normally mild and taciturn, Millikin is furious over recent unparliamentary behavior.

He maintains that McCarthy's secret one-man crusades destroy orderly processes of government at the legislative and executive ends of Pennsylvania Avenue. In his opinion, they smack too violently of the methods of the Spanish Inquisition. They permit individual senators to level public charges against private citizens without a full inquiry and prior sanction for disclosures by responsible Senate agencies.

TO END ATTACKS—In short, the GOP leadership seeks to end the system under which a single member may use his Senate prestige to browbeat other branches of the government, and condemn fellow-Americans without a hearing.

They insist that they do not intend to curb proper study of executive policies, which was a popular Senate concern under Truman. They deny that they aim to protect the new Republican administration. They simply maintain that there is sufficient legislative machinery for orderly and responsible discharge of investigative duty.

PRECEDENTS — McCarthy's private deal with Greek maritime interests was too raw and revolutionary for even his Senate sympathizers. He admits that he made the nonbinding agreement without consulting fellow-committeemen. It was strictly a private adventure.

Although no senator in modern times has gone to such extremes in trespassing on the conduct of foreign affairs, there have been near-precedents. Many difficulties spring from denunciation of their commercial practices—coffee, oil, tin, etc.—by individual members, who had no authority to talk. They have kept relations in a turmoil that State was unable to quiet.

Foreign powers regarded the late William Edgar Borah as our real secretary of state, due to his prestige and profound pronouncements as foreign relations chairman. Anti-British and pro-German (he was a descendant of Martin Luther), his widely quoted statements in the thirties had a dynamic influence on world events. They encouraged Hitler, Mussolini and Tokyo in the belief that the U. S. would remain out of a European war, no matter the provocation.

HEADLINE HUNTERS—In order to reinstate responsible procedure, Millikin has imposed restraints on a successful and able scourge of downtown crooks conducted by Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware. It was Williams who, working alone, exposed Internal Revenue grafters under Truman.

As chairman of a Senate Finance Subcommittee, Williams wants to continue his unfinished investigation. But Millikin demands that he make public no charges or suspicions against alleged offenders without advance approval of a finance committee majority.

"What we are doing," explains Millikin, "is to restrain some blabbermouth, some headline hunter, from going out and ruining citizens. The notion that one man's judgment may be infallibly accepted as to what is wrong and what is not is the key to the door of every room of tyranny."

Millikin explained that he was NOT referring to Senator Williams!

SYNOPSIS

Bill Canali's acquaintance with Jane Nelson had been brief back there in Philadelphia, but for all that, she had fallen in love with this nice, demure Chicago night club girl. She had given him a key to her apartment, daring him to come to the Windy City and to use that key some time! And so he'd taken a leave from his sleuthing job in Philadelphia and we find him now seated alone at night in Miss Nelson's abode, impatiently awaiting her return from her night club chore. Here presently he is joined by a stranger, a white-faced, somber man who says that he too must see Miss Nelson tonight. As both men sit in sullen silence, the telephone rings and Bill springs to answer its summons. Over the wire pours Jane's voice a terrified voice, saying that she is in trouble, trapped, managing to whisper a street address.

CHAPTER FIVE

HE WAS a tall thin man, the homicide cop, a red-head with pale freckled skin, and the manner of a slightly suspicious room clerk. His name was Devlin, and he did the routine things slowly and carefully. When he was through talking with the landlady, and examining Jane's body and her handbag, he said a few words to a uniformed cop and then put a hand on my arm and ushered me out into the corridor. The room was crowded enough by that time with print men, the corner and two other uniformed cops. I was glad to get out; every time I looked at her body I felt something wild and ugly roaring through my head.

"You found her, eh?" he said. "You have a date with her, or something?"

"You could call it that. I got into town this afternoon and went to her apartment. She called, said she was in trouble, and asked me to meet her here."

Devlin digested this, sorted it out. "You're not a native then?"

"No, I'm from Philly."

"What kind of trouble was she in?"

"She didn't say."

"How'd you happen to know her?"

"I met her in Philly four months ago."

"See," he rubbed his long freckled jaw. "You liked each other pretty well, eh?"

"Pretty well."

He nodded. "Well enough for you to make a thousand-mile trip to see her? Or did something else bring you to Chicago?"

"I came to see her."

"It wasn't no casual thing, eh?"

"Of course not. We were soul-mates."

"Don't take it out on me," he said. "I'm doing a job. What kind of work do you do in Philly?"

"I'm a bookkeeper."

"You don't look like one."

"Sometimes I have a pencil behind my ear. That helps."

Mika Chase, actress and author, heads today's birthday list, with Sonja Henie, skating star; Mary Pickford, former movie star, and Margaret Ayer Barnes, novelist.

"Okay, you're mad," he said. "I guess I don't blame you. What's your name, and where can I get in touch with you?"

"Bill Canali. I haven't checked in anywhere yet. I'll call you when I get a room."

"That'll be okay." He frowned and looked at the backs of his bony freckled hands. "The landlady says the girl came in about six. The girl made a phone call around seven. That was to you, I guess."

"The time checks."

"The girl went back to her room after making the call. Anybody could have come in then and followed her up there, the landlady says."

"Without being heard? The old buzzard popped out like a cuckoo when I showed up."

"She says she was in the kitchen doing some ironing. From there she can't hear people coming in or out."

"That must kill her."

"Yeah, she seems like that type." Devlin sighed. "Well, the girl's name is Jane Nelson, which I guess you know. She's got an apartment on Shoreham street, and her brother or lives on the South Side. I got that from some cards in her wallet. The brother lives on Kenilworth avenue. I've sent a car out to see if he's home. Kenilworth used to be a nice street, but it's running down."

Devlin shook his head at this and walked back into Jane's room. I leaned against the wall and lit a cigarette. The anger I'd felt was gone now, but I was as full of hate as a man could be. The timetable was what was driving me wild.

There was only an half-hour lag between the time I'd talked to Jane and when I walked into this room. If I hadn't stopped to shake the man named Smith off my tail...

If...

Jane, baby, I'll find the skunk who did this to you. Don't worry about that, Jane."

A troop of photographers and reporters came up the steps a few minutes later. They looked me over without any curiosity and then tried to push their way into the room. The corner shouted at them and they shouted back, pleading that they were on deadline, that this was a natural, and so forth, and finally Devlin let them in but told them to keep out of the way until the doctor had finished his work.

I dropped my cigarette on the floor and put it out with the toe of my shoe. Devlin seemed like a nice guy and there was a chance he was honest. There's always that chance with cops. But I

Raspy-voiced Comedian Tom Howard, of "Gay Nineties" fame, once starred in a musical directed by the late Ned Wayburn, a slave driver if ever there was one. After a final rehearsal that lasted fourteen hours straight, Ned hollered, "I still don't like that finale. Let's run through it once more." Tom disgustedly hollered, "Give me liberty or give me death!" "Who said that?" demanded Wayburn. "Patrick Henry," answered Howard. "He did, hey?" countered Ned, then roared, "Throw the bum out!"

Do-It-Yourself Fad Affects Whole World

International Trade Pattern Said Upset By New Philosophy

NEW YORK (AP)—The do-it-yourself fad sweeping the nation has its international counterpart. Do-it-yourself nations are messing up the old global trade patterns.

Just as the homeowner turns handyman over the week-end to become independent of costly services or to make things he cannot afford to buy, so are many nations—including our own in some fields—striving to do things for themselves.

The urge to be self sufficient has increased sharply since the last war. Nations seek to be free of the danger of having goods and services cut off by war or by whims of other countries. By doing it themselves they give the jobs and the profits to their own people, and supposedly they can give their own people cheaper goods.

American manufacturers and farmers have seen many former export markets shrivel in recent years.

Time was when British textile mills worked five days a week to help clothe other peoples of the globe, and the sixth day to clothe Englishmen.

Now many of Britain's former customers are self sufficient. India used to be a big market for British textiles. Now India is an exporter of textiles herself. U. S. textiles mills have seen their exports decline, too, but not as badly as the British.

Europe has been building oil refineries at a great rate since the war. It still has to import crude oil, but is much less dependent upon other lands for her gasoline and other oil products.

In fact, the loss of the Abadan refinery in the Iranian oil dispute has been practically made up by the opening of refineries in England and on the continent since Iran seized Abadan.

The United States before the war got its rubber from the Far East. War forced it to build synthetic rubber plants and to experiment with raising rubber-yielding plants. Reactivated after the Korean outbreak the synthetic plants are now so productive they hold down the price of Far East natural rubber—and cause loud squawks from the British and Dutch rubber planters.

Big Fat Pill Is Discovered To Prevent Radiation Ills

CHICAGO (AP)—A big fat pill costing about $4 probably would save you from radiation sickness or death from an A-bomb, scientists said today.

You'd have to take it, though, just before the bomb went off.

The king-size pill looks like the best practical bet so far to guard against radiation, the new element in A-bombs as compared with ordinary bombs.

The prospect was described today by scientists speaking in a news conference or presenting reports to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

The pill would weigh almost two ounces, for a 15-pound person. It would be smaller for someone smaller, still bigger for a fatty.

Wildcat Strike Closing Mills

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—United States Steel Corp. started banking the six blast furnaces at its Ohio works and McDonald plant today because of a wildcat strike by 100 employees on the railroad serving the plants.

Walkout on the Youngstown and Northern Railroad was staged Tuesday by switchmen and engineers belonging to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. The dispute involved pay, but details were not disclosed.

It would be made of cysteine, one of the amino acids or building blocks of proteins such as muscle, fat, nerves and other tissues.

Given to animals an hour or two before they're exposed to lethal X-rays, cysteine saves most of them. It apparently would do the same for humans.

Dr. Harvey M. Patt, one of the Atomic Energy Commission's Argonne National Laboratory here, said, "I would take it (cysteine) if an attack were imminent. But I wouldn't want to take a daily dose over a long period," for then the cysteine might damage body organs.

Cysteine costs about 8 cents a gram, which is 1.28th of an ounce. About 50 grams, or four dollars worth, would protect a person weighing 150 pounds, he estimated.

But, Dr. Patt added, if he knew an A-bomb were about to burst, "I'd run first, and worry about protection later."

The important thing about cysteine is that it is the first chemical which protects against both X-rays and neutrons, both of which come from A-bombs.

Merger Booked

DAYTON (AP)—Bonebrake Seminary Tuesday approved merger of the school with the Evangelical School of Theology at Reading, Pa. The merger will take place on the Dayton campus July 1, 1954.

Condemned Man Planning Appeal

BALTIMORE (AP)—George Edward Grammer, 36-year-old former New York office manager sentenced to hang for the murder of his wife, will take his case to the Maryland Court of Appeals at Annapolis.

Judge Herman Moser, who heard the case without a jury, imposed the death penalty yesterday in the slaying of Grammer's 33-year-old wife Dorothy last August. The State contended he did it because he loved another woman.

The prosecution charged Grammer beat his wife to death and then tried to cover it up with a faked automobile accident.

Russia Pushing Work In Science

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda said today the Soviet Union spent 47.2 billion rubles on science in the period of 1946-51. It called for further development of Soviet science and said new measures have been taken to expand scientific personnel.

(There is no normal exchange between the ruble and the dollar. The Russians have given the ruble an arbitrary value of 25 cents.)

Council Raises Firemen's Wages, Holds Bypass, Restaurant Issues

City Council Tuesday night saved three explosive issues for later consideration and finally disposed of another turbulent question by granting pay increases for the city fire department.

The lawmakers had said at their previous meeting that pay hikes for the firefighters would follow increases granted for the police department.

In urging Council to follow through on its promise without further delay, Councilman Joe Brink said the original plan was to have the two department wage scales boosted simultaneously.

Councilman George Crites at first suggested the firemen's pay boost be held for another meeting or two. However, he later yielded when Councilman Richard Penn supported Brink's views and the necessary ordinance sailed through on first reading.

Under the new scale, Fire Chief Talmer Wise will receive $3,300 a year, payable at $275 per month. Annual pay for regular firemen will be raised to $3,180, payable at $265 per month.

COUNCIL, HOWEVER, moved quickly and quietly over three major issues—including the dynamic question of the Route 23 bypass. Other questions set aside for later decision were those relating to closing hours for eating establishments in residential sections and a proposed merger of the city safety and service branches.

The latter measure, mentioned in Council some time ago, was staging a somewhat sudden return performance with considerable discussion likely before the two departments are finally made to cooperate under the one head.

Hottest card in Council's deck for the last two meetings has been an ordinance proposing withdrawal of a western section of the corporation line. It has been described as the only major step required by the city in order to clear the way for state highway department surveys on the Route 23 bypass.

The ordinance at both sessions has been moved along in routine fashion with relatively little debate. The measure will be up for third and final reading at Council's next meeting April 21.

Many observers believed rival camps on the bypass issue would make their first all-out test of strength in Council on the second reading, rather than wait for the do-or-don't date two weeks hence. However, the anticipated fireworks failed to materialize, possibly because of the touchy reception given a related matter before the detachment ordinance was read.

Crites, acknowledged spokesman in Council for opponents of the bypass, said he had followed through on his threat to fight a petition submitted to the lawmakers in their last meeting. The petition, a necessary preliminary step in the withdrawal action, was signed by the owners of property which would be affected by the proposed bypass route.

BYPASS BOOSTERS said it represented majority consent. Crites claimed it didn't, and added that some of the property owners had been coerced into signing.

At Tuesday night's session, Crites submitted a counteracting petition in which five of the property owners asked that their names be withdrawn from the first petition. Bypass forces contend the first petition has been legally filed with Pickaway County Commissioners and the names can not be withdrawn.

Crites did not argue the legality of his petition, but succeeded in having Council accept it, without action on the request it represents.

Property owners asking that their names be withdrawn were: George Watson, Frank Smith, Elizabeth Smith, George R. Ramey and Norma J. Ramey.

When Crites first moved to have his petition placed on file, Penn shouted "no" in a voice vote.

Then Councilman John Robinson also signified he would oppose acceptance, and so did Councilmen Harold Clifton and Boyd Horn. Councilman Ray Cook, meanwhile, was demanding a roll call.

Cook declared he doubted whether the names could legally be withdrawn. However, he went along in favor of mere acceptance when it was made clear no action on the petition was to be taken by Council at that time. Penn refused to agree even to acceptance of the petition and cast the lone dissenting vote.

THE ORDINANCE regulating the hours of eating places in residential districts, although up for third reading, was held over for "further consideration" on a suggestion by Crites. Some persons whose businesses would be affected, he said, are out of the city and should be given an opportunity to express their views on the proposal if they wish.

It was tabled "until Council wishes to bring it up again." The ordinance calling for merger of the city service and safety de-

Roy Morgan Of Monroe Wins 1953 County Spelling Contest

Roy Morgan, Monroe Township school eighth grader, Tuesday won the spelling championship title of Pickaway County during a contest in Jackson Township school.

Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Timmons, won the honor during competition with 14 other county elementary school pupils in the annual spelling contest.

However, the victory came only after Morgan had tied in the first test with Seventh Grader Tommy Walker of Jackson Township school.

Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Walker, and Morgan finished the written test of 50 words with only one miss each. Walker misspelled "matriculation" and Morgan fumbled on "maim."

MORGAN triumphed in the "spell-off," however, missing only one of the list of 10 "toughies" pre-

Whirlaway Dies On French Farm

PARIS (AP)—Whirlaway, Calumet Farm's great triple crown winner in 1941, died Monday at the Marcel Boussac stud farm near Paris.

The first thoroughbred race horse to win $500,000, Whirlaway was sent to France in August, 1950, by owner Warren Wright under a lease for three seasons. Wright died in December of the same year. Whirlaway not only won the Kentucky Derby, but the Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

30,000 Ohio Kids Unlimber For Spring Sports Carnival

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—More than 30,000 kids are unlimbering their muscles this week in preparation for the Ohio high school four-day spring sports program.

The annual carnival in track, baseball, golf and tennis will be climaxed by the state scholastic championships at Ohio State University's athletic plant, May 22-23.

Last year 888 baseball, 657 track, 116 golf and 58 tennis teams started down the long tournament trail, with only the elite getting into the Columbus finals. H. W. Emswiler, state high school athletic commissioner, estimated 32,000 boys were on the 1952 squads—and that the number would be a bit higher for the current campaign.

Qualifiers in all sports will clear the also-rans from the stars who will battle for the state titles. But even before the sectional and district tests pop up next month, the youngsters will get in plenty of competition in dual meets and other competition.

Big preliminary track tests will be offered April 17-18 by the Mansfield Relays and April 24-25 by the 22nd Ohio Wesleyan Team Relays.

Defending state champs include: Class A baseball, Cincinnati Elder; Class B baseball, Beaver Creek; golf, Youngstown East; Individual golf, Fritz Schmidt, Columbus University; and Fred Jones, Youngstown Rayen (tied); tennis singles, Barry McKay, Dayton Oakwood; tennis doubles, Don Hackney and Roy Davidson, Middletown; Class A track, Cleveland East Tech; Class B track, Belpre. Here's where the qualifying tests in the various sports will be staged, with the winners descending on the state capital for the finals:

Track
Class A districts, May 16, at Delaware, Uhrichsville, Cleveland, Salem (May 15), Bowling Green, Mansfield, Athens, Dayton and Cincinnati.

Class B districts, May 16, at Delaware, Uhrichsville, Chagrin Falls, Avon, Salem (May 13), Bowling Green, Mansfield, Athens, Springfield and Cincinnati.

Baseball
Class A sectionals, May 12, at Bridgeport, Steubenville, and May 12 at Perryburg, Toledo, Galion, Lima.

Class B sectionals, April 18-25, at St. Henry and Clyde, and May 1-2 at New Philadelphia and Bridgeport.

Class A districts, May 9, at Columbus, Bridgeport, Youngstown, Barberton, Canton, Akron, Holgate, Athens, Cincinnati, Dayton.

Class B districts, May 9, at Columbus, St. Clairsville (For Eastern and Southeastern districts), Cleveland, Ravenna, Toledo, Lima, Dayton, Cincinnati.

Tennis
Districts, no classes, May 16, at New Concord (For Central, Eastern and Southeastern districts), Cleveland, Akron, Bowling Green, Dayton and Cincinnati.

Baseball

Coach Predicting Win For Barons

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland should win the American Hockey League's Calder Cup in "not more than six games," Barons Coach Fred Cook predicted today.

On the strength of Tuesday night's nerve-jarring "sudden death" 3-2 Barons victory over the Pittsburgh Hornets, Cook said:

"Winning the first two gives us a big edge, but they are tougher at home."

The third game of the four-out-of-seven playoff series is tomorrow night in Pittsburgh and the fourth is there Saturday night.

Pro Grid Bears Sign O'Connell

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bears were feeling their oats again today: They had prize prospect Tommy O'Connell in the fold.

Signing of the star University of Illinois quarterback Tuesday drew optimistic pronouncements from George Halas, owner-coach, whose onetime terrors of professional football have had lean seasons recently. Said Halas:

"We look upon him as a key man in our rebuilding plans. We expect him to be of great help. You can expect to see him in the lineup right from the start."

Turner Folds As Giardello Cops Decision

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Welterweight Joey Giardello, a 3-1 underdog, exploded into action in the final rounds Tuesday night to beat Gil Turner by a decision.

Turner had won 35 and lost only two prior to the set-to here before 7,377 fans. He was fighting Joey as a warmup for future business with Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan.

It looked like the odds makers were right for the first six rounds. Turner appeared to have conceded seven pounds in weight and Giardello seemed to have conceded class. Gil danced around the slow, plodding Giardello, trading six punches for one. Joey didn't seem to mind. In fact there was some doubt he wanted to keep on going.

Then came the seventh round and Joey lashed out suddenly with a right hand. Turner ran right into it and almost knocked himself out. From that punch on, Giardello felt like fighting and Turner looked like he wanted to go home. The crowd that paid $40.642 loved it.

Giardello staggered Gil with right hands and won the last four rounds. Referee Charley Daggett scored it 7-3; Judge Lou Tress, 7-2-1, and Judge Zach Clayton, 5-3-2. Carmen Graziano and Tony Ferrante, managers of Giardello, said they weren't interested in a Turner rematch. They said they want either Billy Graham or Paddy Young.

Toledo Track Issue Aired By Race Panel

COLUMBUS (AP)—Counsel for an Illinois state representative who acquired control of Fort Miami race track in Toledo refused to tell the Ohio Racing Commission Tuesday who leased the track.

Alvin Hauland said he was not at liberty to disclose the name of the man who negotiated with Illinois Rep. Carl H. Preihs. Preihs leased the track last year for six years. He asked the commission for racing dates this year. The commission withheld the dates pending questioning of Preihs and Hauland.

Commission member Zoltan Gombos of Cleveland asked Hauland if his principal was Sam Cordovano of Toledo. Hauland requested permission to telephone his office before answering. The commission recessed for the call.

Commission Chairman O. C. Belt of Columbus said the commission needed to know who received $65,818 in commissions from the track last year. Hauland said it went to his client.

He is in a strategic position not simply because he is able to introduce his ideas into class discussions or into his lecture, but he is primarily in a strategic position because after hours, after class hours, he can exercise a very important influence upon the ideas of students who gather around him.

"The typical action of the Communist teacher is to become a popular person with students, to curry favor with the students, to appear to be a courageous person, to appear to be a person who is without sin and is always against sin, to be a person who is constantly fighting for what is idealistic.

"A lot of young people accept this view that the Communist teacher has of himself, and as a result become a part of what might be called a coterie of the Communist teacher. Then they begin to become active. They are gradually educated into Communist activity, and it is for that purpose that the Communist teacher is most useful to the Communist Party."

This is as complete an answer as I have yet seen on this subject.

Coroner, Photographer First State Witnesses

Dr. Carroll, Sheriff's Son Give Details

Defendant Bears Mark Of Fall In 'Another Attack'

Pickaway County Coroner Dr. Ray Carroll and Sheriff's Photographer Dwight Radcliff were the first witnesses to testify Wednesday morning in the first-degree murder trial of Mary Agnes Ruff in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Both Dr. Carroll and Radcliff, son of Sheriff Charles Radcliff, submitted items for use as exhibits in the first formal day of trying the 34-year-old farm wife accused of murdering her husband. Dr. Carroll presented bits of metal which he said were taken from the head of Daniel E. Ruff Jr., 35, found shot to death in his farm home near South Bloomfield on Jan. 15.

The Coroner also introduced the fact of a "mystery bullet," telling the court there had been three bullet holes in the dead man's head while he believed only two slugs were found within.

AUTHORITIES have frequently pointed out the fragments probably represented two bullets instead of a single slug, as at first believed. Carroll said "the third bullet" was never found despite "an exhaustive search." Nearly a dozen x-ray photographs were taken in an unrewarding effort to find it in the corpse.

Chief purpose of the coroner's testimony was to tell of routine identifications and describe the condition of the body when found.

Carroll testified the absence of powder burns indicated the gun had been held at least 12 inches away from the victim.

HE SAID he estimated the bullets were .22-caliber, basing the estimate on his own professional medical experience.

Dwight Radcliff, sheriff's photographer, followed the coroner to the witness stand.

Most of Radcliff's testimony prior to the nontime recess related to his photographic experience and photographs he took at the scene of the slaying.

Carroll was called as first witness for the state when court began at 9:30 a. m.

Mrs. Ruff had a fresh abrasion in the center of her forehead. Defense attorneys said she had "another attack" early Wednesday morning in Pickaway County jail, and that she struck her head in falling.

There was a 15-minute delay before Dr. Carroll appeared. The courtroom's 120 spectator seats were nearly all filled by the time court convened.

Mrs. Ruff sat at defense counsel's table between Attorneys Joe Adkins and Paul Gingham. Most of the time, while awaiting Dr. Carroll's arrival, she looked steadily at the table in front of her and spoke only in reply to questions by her attorneys.

DR. CARROLL, in office as coroner less than two weeks at the time of the slaying, told briefly of his medical training in reply to questions.

Turnpike Probe Being Demanded

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee considered today whether to authorize an investigation of alleged maladministration, chicanery and rigid specifications by the Ohio Turnpike Commission.

Sen. Fred W. Danner (R-Summit) leveled the accusations in support of his bill to create a six-member Senate-House group to make the inquiry. He said he lacked evidence of any criminal action by the turnpike commission. But he said people have lost confidence in the group created to build a 241-mile toll super-road across Northern Ohio.

Adenauer Seeks Aid For Refugees

WASHINGTON (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was reported today seeking special American financial help in handling floods of refugees from Communist-ruled East Germany.

Adenauer was reported hopeful of U. S. financial backing for building big housing projects in West Germany, mainly to help absorb refugees. About 1,500 men, women and children daily are slipping through the Communist Iron Curtain into West Berlin.

ATOMIC EXPLOSION cloud spreads over the Nevada desert at about 30,000 feet following most recent atomic blast which was detonated at "more than 5,000 feet above" the earth. The device was dropped from a B-50. This explosion was highest so far of the 25 in the U. S. The Nagasaki bomb went off at 1,800 feet.

Conneaut Sees Another Wreck

CONNEAUT (AP)—Wrecking crews today were clearing the New York Central Railroad's east-west tracks of the second clutter of derailed cars here in 10 days.

Just four miles west of the spot where three of the road's trains collided March 27 and killed 21 persons, a New York-to-Chicago express mail and baggage train derailed Tuesday night. A brakeman, D. S. Eppler of Erie, Pa., the only casualty, was treated for a minor injury.

U. S., Belgian Units Halt Red Thrust

SEOUL (AP)—Chinese Reds slammed into Allied defenses in western and central Korea today, but battle-toughened American Marines and Belgian infantrymen sent the Communists reeling back.

B26 bombers wiped out 130 Red trucks on North Korean highways during the night, while fighter-bombers blasted three rail bridges and a radio station at Haeju, in Western Korea.

Chinese Reds in company strength—about 175 men—stormed up Bunker Hill on the western front but were blocked by a Marine combat patrol.

The attack carried some Communists into Allied lines but sharp-shooting Leathernecks stopped the Reds cold in 11 minutes of bitter, close-quarter fighting.

Northeast of Chonwon on the central front, another Red company hit the main line positions of the Belgian battalion attached to the U. S. 3rd Infantry Division. The battle was all over 80 minutes after the first shots were fired.

Elsewhere, Chinese troops still held a central front outpost called Texas Hill, which changed hands four times Tuesday. South Koreans knocked Reds off the strategic hill twice, only to lose it each time. Sporadic fighting crackled around the hill early Wednesday.

'Slayer' Sticks To His Story

WASHINGTON C. H. (AP)—Frederick Pope, a wandering costume jewelry salesman who says he killed a man who strangled a Connecticut school girl, told his complicated story here today to Det. R. N. Stark of the Connecticut State Police.

Pope, 27, stoutly insists his story of the death of 10-year-old Constance Smith of Sudance, Wyo., who disappeared from a Lakeville, Conn., girls' camp last July, is the truth. He also said he told the truth when he reported he clubbed one "Jack Wilson" to death in Arizona for killing the girl.

'Open House' Due In CHS, Corwin School

An "open house" program will be observed all day Thursday in Circleville's high school and Corwin St. building.

The special "open house" program will mark the informal opening of the new industrial arts building put into operation this year and the new school cafeteria.

In addition, a display of the work of pupils throughout the school may be seen in the classrooms and halls of the main building.

Visitors during the special program also will be able to see classes in operation during the day, since regular class schedules will be followed by the pupils and their teachers.

SUPERINTENDENT Frank Fischer said the best time to visit the new industrial arts building will be from 10:30 a. m. until noon, when classes will be occupying all parts of the building.

Actual visiting hours will be from 9 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. during the day, with evening visiting hours beginning at 7 p. m. and incorporating a monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association at 8 p. m. in the auditorium.

Light refreshments will be served by the PTA in the new cafeteria following the meeting.

Invitations for everyone to attend the day-long program at any time have been made by the Circleville Teachers' Association, board of education and the school administrators.

Highlight of the special displays prepared for visitors will be a science exhibit set up by the Science Organization of the school.

The Science Organization is a new group formed this year under the direction of Eugene Akers. It is not in competition socially with other school groups but to stimulate interest in science.

Special exhibit for the public will consist of displays from technical institutions in an effort to illustrate the tremendous opportunities which lie ahead in science for the youth of today.

Next year, the organization plans to delve into radio and electronics. It also is seeking to obtain science scholarships for deserving members.

Casualties Jump

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today reported 1,039 additional battle casualties in Korea, raising the war toll of American killed, wounded and missing to 132,967.

Korean Peace Terms Studied By Officials

Moving Of Dividing Line Northward From 38th Parallel Talked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plans to make a permanent peace for war-wrecked Korea and perhaps negotiate with the Communists on other critical Far Eastern issues are beginning to shape up here as truce prospects brighten.

One idea receiving official consideration, it was understood today, is that any long-term peace arrangements should provide for a north-south dividing line at the narrow waist of the peninsula about 80 miles north of present battle lines.

Under provisions already worked out, an armistice would become effective along this present line. However, some authorities here believe this would not make a workable division of the country over a long period.

The battle line is generally aligned north of Parallel 38, which divided North and South Korea before the Red attack. The Communists presumably would object to any northward shift.

The belief is that the South Korean government would accept a border at the Korean waist since this would give it control over approximately 85 per cent of the country. Such an arrangement would reduce the North Korean position to a minimum, just short of extinction.

IT WOULD, however, leave a buffer zone between South Korea and major Red Chinese and Soviet interests in Manchuria and Siberia. (Continued on Page Two)

Arms Plants Expansion Cut Seen Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson's reported proposals to spend less on the expansion of munitions plants and to emphasize production of weapons, which looked like a sure-thing controversy, smoothed out today into scarcely a ripple.

Officials of the Office of Defense Mobilization, which favors building a broad industrial "base" for swift mobilization, including standby plants and equipment and other administration aides said privately:

1. President Eisenhower intends to make personally the final decisions on both mobilization policy and military spending. This rules out any civilian - versus - military contest of power.

2. ODM people favor some of Wilson's ideas, admit that some of ODM's original plans were over-ambitious, and profess to see no reason why Wilson's views cannot be reconciled with theirs.

They yield not an inch, however, in the position that adequate armament capacity, ready to produce on short notice, is a "must" for national security and does not exist today. All parties are content, it was indicated, to let the President shape the military programs to suit the developing international situation as he sees it, and the country's strategic plans.

Auto Workers Get Pay Slashes

DETROIT (AP)—Ford, Chrysler and a host of other auto firms are expected to follow General Motors' lead soon and lop a penny an hour off the wages of their employees.

Within a couple weeks possibly a million or more auto workers will take the cut under cost-of-living wage contracts. General Motors announced it was knocking one cent off the wages of its 397,000 hourly rated employees. About 98,000 non-union salaried employees will be given a proportionate pay reduction.

Russia Withdraws Pressure For Its Disarmament Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky today urged Western countries to "meet the Soviet Union half way" just as the Soviet Union is endeavoring to meet them half-way in an effort to reach agreement on the question of disarmament.

In a brief speech to the UN's 60-nation General Assembly, Vishinsky claimed that "in an effort to reach agreement the Soviet delegation deems it possible not to press for adoption of its own resolution."

That draft, which the assembly's political committee defeated, called for immediate prohibition of the atomic bomb and a one-third across the board arms cut by all the big powers.

UN sources said a search of the records showed that this is the first time in the UN's seven-year-long debate on disarmament that Russia has failed to revive a defeated proposal in the assembly. It is also the first time that a Soviet spokesman has discussed disarmament without coupling it with a violent attack on the U. S.

Vishinsky, in a calm voice, urged the committee to adopt two amendments which the Soviet Union has proposed to a majority-supported Western resolution.

The Western plan calls for the UN's Disarmament Commission, established last year, to continue its efforts to work out an agreed solution to world disarmament and genuine international control of atomic energy.

It contained a word of praise for the work the commission has done so far and reaffirmed the assembly resolution establishing it with its terms of reference.

These are the two sections which the Soviet amendments would remove.

Vishinsky said the reason he wanted them taken out was that "they were not, at the time, acceptable to the Soviet Union" and said reaffirmation now "places us in a rather embarrassing position."

The Indonesian delegate took the floor immediately afterwards to say that "in view of the statement by the USSR, it is our view that the Soviet amendment may provide a starting point for progress." He said Indonesia would vote for the resolution as a whole if the amendments were adopted.

Should the Russian amendments be rejected, the Soviets are expected to vote against the resolution continuing the disarmament group. It appears certain of endorsement by the Assembly, however, and the Soviets are expected to continue sitting on the commission.

Russian Delegate Valerian A. Zorin told the Political Committee Tuesday Moscow would not press details of its old germ warfare charges against the U. S. if the Americans would drop demands for an impartial investigation. The Russians also want the Americans to ratify the 1925 Geneva Convention banning bacterial weapons.

Probers Wary On Linking Clergy, Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators spoke somewhat warily today of how far they intend to go in following up sworn testimony linking five Boston ministers to the Communist underground.

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind.) said the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee has made no decision on the extent, if any, to which its probe for Red influences in education will branch out to encompass the clergy.

Sen. Hendrickson (R-N.J.), another subcommittee member, called it "a delicate matter" requiring careful consideration.

Their comments were made in separate interviews after Herbert A. Philbrick, 36-year-old former counter-spy for the FBI in the Red underground, told the subcommittee "the Communist party plants and places ministers."

In the 1947-49 period, he testified, he belonged to a "deeply secret" Communist cell composed of 70 to 80 persons he described as "cultural leaders" in the Boston area.

Philbrick said he, a Christian, was shocked to discover that among this group were seven to eight "hardened, steeled, disciplined" Communists "posing as ministers of the gospel."

He added that, as far as he could determine, all of them had been Communists before becoming clergymen. He also testified that at least five of them are still serving as ministers there.

$30 Million Pact At A-Plant Let

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced today award of a $30 million subcontract to George Koch Sons, Inc., Evansville, Ind., for sheet metal construction work at AEC's new gaseous diffusion plant being built in Pike County, Ohio.

It was awarded by Peter Kiewit Sons Co., general contractor for the project, on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis. The Koch firm will install all sheet metal, heat and ventilation systems, process and pipe enclosures on the project. The AEC said this work will take four years.

Only About 100 Yanks On First List Handed To West Negotiators

MUNSAN (AP)—The Communists today said they are ready to send home 600 disabled prisoners of war. The chief Allied negotiator asked for a recount, and added: "I have hopes we will get more."

Observers here predicted that only slightly more than 100 Americans will be exchanged.

Rear Adm. John C. Daniel told the Communists their figure was "incredibly small," and asked "that you have these figures reviewed." He said, however, that "I have no reason to believe at the present time that they are not acting in good faith."

The UN Command offered to return 5,800 sick and wounded Communists—5,100 North Koreans and 700 Chinese. This is 7 per cent of the 83,000 pro-Communist prisoners and 4 per cent of all prisoners held by the Allies.

THE COMMUNIST figure of 600 is 5 per cent of the 12,000 to 13,000 UN and Korean prisoners the Reds have said they hold. Both sides named lower-level staff officers to work out administrative details of the exchange. The UN Command appointed Col. Willard B. Carlock of Galveston, Tex.; Air Force Col. Douglas Karins of Riverside, Calif. and South Korean Col. Lee Soo Yung. The Communists named North Korean Col. Lee Pyong Il and Chinese Col. Wang Ching.

The staff officers went into session immediately after the liaison groups adjourned for the day.

Daniel asked the Communists for a complete revised text of the whole draft agreement on transfer of sick and wounded so the UN Command could consider any changes "in one package and arrive speedily to the items which are controversial." The Communists have agreed to the main points of Daniel's plan, and said they will submit their versions of the rest.

The Allied protest on the Communist offer was the stiffest statement yet made in the three-day-old conference. It was the first note of discord in the otherwise smooth negotiations which Tuesday resulted

Private Firms To Get Atom Energy OK

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the Atomic Energy Commission soon will take a step toward opening the way for commercial development atomic energy for power, through private competition.

A Washington dispatch by W. H. Lawrence said the AEC will recommend to Congress that the federal government "end its absolute monopoly" on the possession and development of fissionable materials for atomic energy production.

The AEC recommendation, the story added, will be with the approval of President Eisenhower and the National Security Council. The impending move, Lawrence wrote, "is regarded as underlining the nation's desire to push the development of atomic energy for peaceful purposes, instead of concentrating on weapons."

Noting that by June 30 the government will have spent about $8.8 billion on the new source of energy, the story said, the plan is predicted on the assumption that the United Nations is not likely to adopt international control of atomic energy, and therefore it is tailored to meet a purely domestic situation.

Hospital Aided

in agreement in principle to exchange disabled POWs.

NORTH KOREAN Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho told Daniel, "We have offered the figures of sick and injured prisoners of war only after we have checked the matter in detail. Accordingly, I cannot find any reason why the figures are incredibly small."

Daniel told newsmen the figure is "controversial."

"It depends on what category you put them in," he said. "In other words, how sick is a man?"

Of the 600 ailing prisoners the Communists offered to return, 450 would be South Koreans. The rest would be Americans, British, French or other UN soldiers.

UN sources said possible reasons for the relatively few prisoners the Reds will return include:

1. The Communists are not as liberal in defining sick and wounded prisoners, a reason suggested by Daniel.

2. The Reds may claim some of the Allied troops they hold have embraced Communism and decline repatriation.

3. A final, and more dismaying explanation, may be found in the Reds' policy of "liberating" captured soldiers at the front. The Communists have captured many more UN troops than they admit. Some Allied estimates place the total at 65,000.

MORE THAN A year ago in Panmunjom, the Reds explained the discrepancy by saying large numbers of captured UN troops (presumably South Koreans) were released at the front.

Allied officers believe most of these men were drafted into the North Korean army.

Since any disabled captives would hardly be drafted for war service, the UN might reasonably expect to find a higher proportion of sick and injured in the Red camps than would be normal if the Reds had interned all their prisoners.

If the Reds actually captured 50,000 more Allied troops than they have ever accounted for, the United Nations — applying the Reds' own proportion of 5 per cent — might expect to find about 2,500 more disabled Allied soldiers than the 600 admitted by the Reds.

The talks Wednesday lasted slightly more than an hour. They resume Thursday at 11 a. m.

Korean Peace Terms Studied By Officials

Hence there is some feeling that the Red governments of China and Russia if not North Korea, might be willing to move the permanent peace line north. No one here has any idea what kind of compensation they might bargain for.

This and a host of other questions are becoming of considerable importance because of the Soviet peace offensive and the steps taken by the Reds toward agreeing on an acceptable truce in Korea.

Among the provisions of an armistice worked out prior to the deadlock over prisoners of war repatriation was one stating that the military negotiators should recommend to the countries concerned a "political conference."

This would settle "the questions of the withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea, the peaceful settlement of the Korean question, etc."

President Eisenhower said in a talk Tuesday that American troops would have to remain in the region of Korea for a long time. This could include Japan, however, and would not necessarily mean indefinite manning of a truce line.

Ohio Medical Probe Sought

COLUMBUS — The Ohio House Tuesday received a resolution by Reps. Robert Johnson (R-Medina) and James McGiettrick (D-Cuyahoga) asking an investigation of the Ohio Medical Board.

They want the three-member investigating committee to report by June 30 listing irregularities and suggested remedies. Johnson said the request is based on reports the board has refused European-educated physicians the right to take examinations which would permit them to practice in Ohio.

tions by Prosecutor William Ammer. He also retraced his recollections of the morning of the shooting.

As the first five exhibits, Ammer asked Carroll to identify pictures taken at the Ruff home on that morning. The doctor said they showed the scene as he remembered it.

Carroll said Ruff's body temperature was 96.2 degrees. He estimated the temperature of Ruff's bedroom at 80 degrees.

The doctor told of gunshot wounds found in the back of Ruff's head, and of the decision to hold an autopsy.

Ammer asked if there was any sign of a struggle, but Gingham objected and Carroll was asked only to describe how the body was found.

Ammer asked where the doctor noticed blood.

"On the pillow by his head," he said, adding he saw no other bloodstains on the bed.

STANDEES had begun to appear in the rear of the courtroom at this point.

Carroll was asked to identify two more exhibits—the autopsy and coroner reports. He did so, and the papers were submitted as evidence.

However, Gingham protested the defense had not had an opportunity to examine the reports and the court said the defense would be given that chance before the documents are accepted as evidence.

Carroll gave a detailed medical description of the dead man's skull and bullets found in it. He said the shots would produce a "profound effect" on the victim.

He said one bullet damaged the brain tissue. He said one bullet found in the skull was deformed and another fragmented.

AMMER SHOWED the slugs to defense counsel. Mrs. Ruff did not glance into the small envelope holding the slug particles, but glanced instead at Ammer.

The pieces were examined by Carroll who said: "Yes, these are the bullets I've just described." The bullets were admitted as evidence.

Ammer asked the doctor if he could determine the distance at which the bullets were fired.

Carroll said he could not set the distance, but that it must have been greater than 12 inches. He said no powder burns were found.

Carroll said the fact that an apple was found in Ruff's stomach could not be used to estimate when death occurred. Ammer had asked if this could be done.

Under cross-examination by Joe Adkins, Carroll was asked to describe the size of the gunshot wounds. He said the three wounds were four, five and six millimeters in diameter.

ADKINS asked if the different sizes had any significance, and Carroll conceded the bullets could have entered from different angles and different distances.

Adkins queried him on absence of powder burns and the doctor said none was found. Carroll said the "third bullet" was never found, despite an "exhaustive search" and numerous x-rays.

Adkins stressed no trace of a third bullet was found.

Carroll said the wounds in Ruff's head were in the general area of the right-hand side of the back of the head. The doctor indicated the spot on his own head.

Carroll said two of the wounds were about 2.25 inches from each other and indicated the third was a similar distance from these.

Carroll said the diameter of the area struck was about three inches.

Adkins questioned the coroner closely on minute details of the wounds. Carroll finally drew a diagram of the location of the wounds and used a pocket tape measure to make new computations requested by the defense attorney.

CARROLL TESTIFIED with a booklet of papers on his lap.

Carroll said a bullet's velocity is greatest at the muzzle of the gun. He would not say the bullets had been fired from different angles.

Carroll estimated Ruff's weight at 215 pounds.

On redirect examinations by Ammer, Carroll said identification of Ruff's body was made at the scene. Ammer asked him to give an opinion as to caliber of the bullets.

"Twenty-two caliber," he said. Adkins asked how he arrived at that estimate as to caliber. Carroll said he made it just from his ordinary experience.

When the coroner left the stand, the court declared a short recess. Dwight Radcliff, sheriff's photographer, was called as the state's second witness.

Ousted Prof Cites 'Danger'

COLUMBUS — Dr. Byron T. Darling, suspended Ohio State University physics professor who faces dismissal because he would not tell a congressional committee whether he is a Communist, today called the discharge recommendation a "dangerous precedent."

In a privately circulated statement, Dr. Darling declares he was not and never had been a Communist.

In his testimony he invoked the Fifth Amendment that says a man may not be forced to testify against himself.

"It is a potent menace to the foundation of our country," Dr. Darling said of his discharge.

"I am gravely concerned, not only for myself but for my colleagues throughout the nation, over the establishment of this dangerous precedent, denying university professors their fundamental constitutional rights as citizens of this country."

DR. HOWARD L. Bevis, Ohio State president, recommended the dismissal of Dr. Darling Tuesday. The board of trustees meet April 20 to consider the recommendation.

Dr. Darling refused in testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee to say whether he was or is a Communist, whether two fellow professors are Communists, whether he ever had handled any Communist money or whether he had passed along secrets to the Russians.

Several of the photographs and they were admitted as evidence. One of the picture, showing the slain man in bed, was passed among the jurors.

Another, taken from a different angle, was also shown. This continued for other photographs of the death scene and defense attorneys also renewed their interest in the large prints.

Radcliff pointed out on one picture, under questioning by Davis, a mark described as a bullet hole in the bedsheet.

The indicated mark was near the dead man's right hand, resting close to his face.

Several other details of the death scene, all of them already generally known to the public, were brought out by Davis as photographs were identified by Radcliff and then passed among the jurors.

Radcliff also identified a picture taken of a shotgun found on the back porch of the Ruff farm-house.

Other photographs showed a bullet being removed from the bottom mattress of Ruff's bed.

AFTER THESE had been shown to the jury, court recessed for lunch.

When court reopened after the noon recess, Radcliff resumed his testimony on pictures he took at the scene of the slaying.

All spectator seats were filled and nearly 50 persons were standing in the rear of the courtroom.

Davis asked Radcliff to identify individual photographs which then were shown to the jurors.

Adkins took over cross-examination and questioned the photographer on events that transpired after Radcliff's arrival at the scene.

Radcliff left the stand at 1:46 p. m.

The state called, as its third witness, P. H. Reichard, Columbus newspaper photographer.

Reichard, in reply to questioning by Ammer, told of his experience and his assignment to take pictures at the Ruff home the morning of the slaying.

He produced pictures he said were taken the morning of the slaying. These were examined by defense attorneys.

Bob Willis Wins Easter Egg Test

Bob Willis won top honors Sunday during the sixth annual Gypsy Roamers Motorcycle Club Easter egg run.

The run, laid out by Maynard Burns, last year's winner, covered 30 miles and took three hours to complete. It ended in Ted Lewis Park.

A three-way tie developed at the end of the first run between Nora McKenney, Willis and Harry Waites. Willis won in the run-offs. The Roamers held a fish fry later in Gold Cliff Park.

Slager Dies Tuesday From Blast Wounds

Schuyler Slager, 83, prominent Ross County farmer struck by the blast of a shotgun in his home March 31, died at 6:15 p. m. Tuesday in Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus.

Slager was fatally shot at about 8 p. m. March 31 following a quarrel on his farm, located just south of Yellowhead on Route 104, involving himself and two brothers, William and Emmanuel Jester.

Authorities said William Jester, 24, had struck the elderly farmer operator after he had asked for his wages in order to quit. That request followed an earlier quarrel with the brother, Emmanuel.

Slager was struck over the left ear by a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun. The shot was fired into the Slager home through a window on the front porch.

ROSS COUNTY Sheriff Sam Mark announced Wednesday he will confer with the prosecutor as to whether a murder accusation will be made against William Jester.

Mr. Slager was born July 1, 1869, in Ross County, son of Jacob and Martha Shanteen Slager. In 1900 he married Verberna Gartner, who died in 1927.

Surviving him is a daughter, Mrs. Ernest Gerber, of Chillicothe; two sisters, Mrs. Florence Dungan of Columbus and Mrs. Floyd B. Yates of Dayton; and one grand-daughter.

He was a member of Springbank Methodist church, Elks Lodge and Ohio Farm Bureau.

Despite All Science, Drill Is Key To Oil

You Still Must Bore A Hole To Tell If Liquid Gold Present

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Science comes increasingly to the aid of the man looking for oil—whether under dry land or under the ocean bed. It uses every device from the airplane to atomic gadgets to locate oil.

But oilmen say in spite of all the aid science is giving them of late, there's still only one way to find oil—drill a hole and see if there's oil at the bottom of it.

And the chances still are that there won't be. Many more dry holes are drilled than producing wells, the American Petroleum Institute reports.

Oil prospecting tools and methods are constantly being improved, however. And this year the oil industry may spend around 2½ billion dollars in drilling and producing. It spent just over two billion dollars last year, and found more new oil than the record amount of petroleum it pumped, so the nation's oil reserves are higher than ever.

Many sciences unite in helping the oil prospector decide whether it's worth while drilling a hole at a certain place. The oil and gas journal lists some of them: Geology, geophysics, paleontology, mineralogy, chemistry, botany, mathematics, seismology, and nuclear physics. Oil prospectors are likely to use some or all of these in seeking new oil fields.

The airplane is used increasingly. Aerial photography speeds up mapping. Airborne magnetometers are used in prospecting over water covered areas. This instrument locates broad changes in underground formations.

Airborne scintillometers pick up radioactive radiations beneath the earth's surface. Low radiation is usually found over oil fields and high radiation around them.

The device works something like the atomic "eye" and "searchlight" sometimes used in wells, either completed ones or as they are being drilled.

The eye can see through the steel casing and record the radiation, and the searchlight can tell whether the rock holding the oil is porous enough to let it flow out. This device aids the driller in telling whether he is bypassing a likely oil formation.

Locked Doors At Ruff Home Ease Tense Trial's Routine

Deputy Sheriff Carl White gambled his clean, trim uniform Tuesday afternoon and thereby kept an unexpected problem from blocking routine of the Ruff murder trial here.

When jurors selected to hear testimony in the trial of Mary Agnes Ruff were taken to the farmhouse where the state claims she fatally shot her husband, an embarrassing situation became obvious. No one had the key to the vacant dwelling!

Coming as it did as an unforeseen sidelight in a story filled with tragedy, the interlude furnished a brief but welcome breathing spell from the tension of the courtroom proceedings.

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles Radcliff jokingly remarked that it would be awful to have him caught "breaking and entering"—with news photographers present. Others in the group looked over their own assortment of keys to see if they had anything which might fit the front door of the home, located on Route 23 near South Bloomfield.

STILL OTHERS, in an optimistic way, poked around in hopes of finding an unlocked window. But there was no easy way in.

It was at this stage someone discovered the coal chute, leading to the cellar, could be opened. Next step was for everyone in the group to suggest that his neighbor might fit easiest through the black, begrimed opening that led downward into total darkness.

While the jurors remained apart from the good-natured banter, tall attorneys and husky officers of the sheriff's department looked suggestively at those of lesser build. Deputy White got the nod from Sheriff Radcliff to try the assignment and he proceeded without ceremony. His clean blue shirt was taking it hard when the last of him disappeared down the coal chute.

Even then there was an anxious moment when White shouted, out of the black depths, that the door leading to the first floor was locked inside!

However, the deputy forced the door and matters resumed their serious schedule.

Sheriff Radcliff escorted members of the jury through and around the six-room house. Making up the remainder of the group were attorneys for the state and defense, sheriff's deputies and newspapermen.

MRS. RUFF confirmed later in court that she did not want to accompany the group and this wish had been granted.

With possible exception of some small items in the attic, the house had been cleared of furniture. A wide variety of small, discarded articles—typical of many homes recently vacated—had been left on shelves and in cupboards and, in a few cases, on the floor.

The jurors, who asked the sheriff numerous questions about the interior and details relating to the night of the shooting, then returned to the courtroom to hear opening statements by the state and defense.

Taft Predicts Ike To Get Re-Election

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) predicted today that President Eisenhower will run again in 1956 and be re-elected. Persistent, although unverified, reports have circulated in Washington that Eisenhower wants only one term. He told a news conference Feb. 25 he had probably made as many facetious remarks on the subject as his friends could bear and wasn't ready for a serious declaration.

Taft, the Senate majority leader, said in an interview he never had heard any one-term suggestion from the President or his intimates. Taft said that in any event he firmly believes Eisenhower will be convinced he ought to seek a second term when the time comes. "It will be inevitable that the pressure will build up on him from within the party," Taft said. "When the party has a man in the White House the pressure always builds up to keep him there."

"When the time comes, the President will be told that only by running again can he prevent a split in the party and make sure of its success at the polls."

Taft's comment came after he had agreed, evidently somewhat reluctantly, to the choice of former Rep. Leonard W. Hall of New York as Republican national chairman—a selection expected to be ratified by the national committee here Friday.

It is an open secret among the Ohio senator's intimates that Taft would have preferred a chairman less closely identified than Hall is with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the 1944 and 1948 GOP presidential nominee.

Taft apparently based his acceptance on a belief that Eisenhower is going to continue to dominate party policy for the next eight years.

City Backs Planning Group On Expansion; Awaits Plan

Circleville's lawmakers Tuesday night passed lightly over a matter linked to the city's expansion program and then, almost at the last minute, twisted it into one of the wildest parliamentary snarls Council has had in the last year.

Between the early action and the later, confused debate, several matters of routine business were also given their share of attention.

The tangle over the correct way to handle the detail on city expansion centered on a request by Frank L. Gorsuch, Lancaster builder, for Council's attitude toward annexation of the Martin property in the northeastern section of the city.

Gorsuch holds an option on the property until May 1 and is anxious to know what help he can expect from the city if he proceeds with housing plans.

Early in the meeting, Council was read a letter from the builder in which he urged steps be taken toward annexation of the area. The letter was placed on file.

LATER, IN ANOTHER communication read to Council, the reorganized city zoning and planning commission—while not opposing the annexation or development of the area—warned that care must be taken to have it coordinated with a master plan now being drawn to guide all of the city expansion efforts.

The commission explained a plan of the proposed Gorsuch sub-division.

The ceremony was conducted by Rosemary Fisher, Bob Copeland and Dick Smith, active members, and Ruth Norpoth, an alumna.

New members of the Society are Rose Mary Eccard, Phyllis Florence and Ramon Bullock, seniors, Madge Boesiger, Jo Ann Sykes and Bill Winters, juniors.

Following the impressive ceremony, the Future Teachers' Association held a reception for parents, guests and faculty in the home economics rooms. Miss Mary Ann Noecker and Miss Ann Rose were in charge of the reception.

Former Official Given Jail Term

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Sultan Hamid II of West Borneo, a cabinet minister in a former Indonesian administration, was sentenced today to 10 years in jail for masterminding an attempted armed overthrow of the government.

He was charged with ordering Capt. R. P. P. (Turk) Westerling, a Dutch guerrilla leader, to attack a cabinet meeting Jan. 24, 1950, and kill three top Indonesian leaders. The attack never came off, however.

sion has been submitted and it was hoped it could be quickly fitted into the overall plans of the planning unit.

However, the commission asked that Council refrain from any commitments of a type that would throw plans of the sub-division out of line with the commission's master plan.

Explaining the letter, Commission Chairman Bob Adkins stressed his group is working as rapidly as possible and that it will be pleased to have the sub-division made a part of the city.

At the same time he pointed out that Council, at this time, should not try to promise too much until the commission's own planning is further advanced.

Most of Council appeared willing to go along with the commission's request, but apparently neglected to signify its willingness in correct parliamentary manner.

Councilman John Robinson called attention to the fact that the matter had been disposed of in a hazy manner, and Councilman Ray Cook said the whole question had been left hanging in air.

ABOUT THAT time, Councilman George Crites expressed Gorsuch could only wait until May 1 for some definite assurance by Council. Crites warned that the lawmakers must be careful not to discourage the proposed development while waiting for the master plan.

"We don't know how long it's going to take to get the master plan," he declared.

While indicating willingness to respect the desires of the commission, he also asked that some steps be taken to assure the builder.

In the resultant discussion on how best to go about this, the lawmakers had difficulty in agreeing on what action they had taken and what its effect would be.

Several moves to untangle the question were launched, but new angles were voiced—or old ones re-

Economic Curbs OK Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee appeared set to stamp its approval today on a 90-day price, wage and rent freeze for use in a big war emergency.

The committee plans to finish its closed-door work today on drafting new economic controls legislation. The freeze proposal and rent controls are the only two major subjects left to be voted on.

Committee Chairman Capehart (R-Ind) wants to begin Senate debate on the measure next week. He thinks Congress should complete action on controls by April 30 when part of the present Defense Production Act expires.

Bingo Brings Death

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Hamilton woman, who swallowed a token at a bingo game Feb. 9, collapsed and died Tuesday while awaiting examination in a doctor's office. The victim was Mrs. Victoria DeShon, 60.

Staggering School Load Is Predicted

NEW YORK (AP)—You can expect to see a whopping 30 million pupils years from now, says Dr. N. L. Engelhardt Jr. noted educational consultant.

If present birth rates continue, says Engelhardt, associated with the research and educational consulting firm of Engelhardt, Engelhardt and Leggett, the United States by 1978 will have 13 million more pupils than the 1952-53 enrollment in kindergarten through the sixth grade. He made his comments after completing a school population study for his firm.

To meet this staggering load, he warns, each community must do its long-range planning now to insure top use of its facilities and finances then.

As an indication of things to come, Engelhardt says, "Heavy kindergarten enrollments this year are the result of the large number of births in 1947—but 1951 broke 1947's record in births, and 1952 has set an all-time high."

The full effect of these figures—between 1947 and 1952—will not be felt in the elementary schools until 1958. Junior high schools will feel the full impact about 1959. Enrollment in senior high schools, climbing slowly at present, will increase sharply following 1961.

This means, Engelhardt says, that for every six elementary classrooms in use in 1952-53, your community's schools will need, within five years, an additional room—or more, if you have not been keeping up with enrollment increases.

For every 100 pupils in junior high school today, you may expect 140 by 1961.

For every 100 pupils in senior high school today, you may expect 150 by 1965.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Those in favor of giving the states the submerged lands off their shores say: "Give it to them out to their historic boundaries." But those who want the government to keep those lands ask: "Out to what historic boundaries? What are they and where are they?"

It would be a smart man who could convince everyone he had the answer. Because the legislation, which Congress is now preparing to pass, is so vague on that question the Supreme Court may have to solve the problem, perhaps years from now, thus piling legal snarls on all those that have gone before.

Yet the answer is worth billions of dollars because the submerged lands off California, Texas and Louisiana are rich with oil. President Eisenhower's attorney general, Herbert Brownell, asked Congress before it approved the measure it is now considering, to draw a line, showing what the boundaries are. That might be the solution to the endless question about boundaries, he said, and if Congress didn't do it, there might be a long fight ending up in the Supreme Court. But Congress ignored him on this. Now Congress is getting ready to pass a bill which, in effect, says this:

All states will own the submerged lands seaward from their shores for three miles and any lands beyond that if they can prove they have a just claim to them. What would be a just claim?

What this may mean in future revenue, for the states or the federal government, can be seen from this: The estimated oil potential off California is two billion barrels, with more than half of it within the three miles. California has far less to gain than Louisiana and Texas by fighting to claim lands beyond three miles.

The potential oil reserve off Louisiana has been estimated at four billion barrels, with only 250 million inside the three-mile limit and 3 1/2 billion barrels beyond that point. But the estimated potential for Texas is nine billion barrels, with 400 million within the three-mile limit, 800 million more between 3 and 10 1/2 miles, and 7,800,000,000 beyond 10 1/2 miles.

While it was still a republic, before entering the union in 1845, Texas claimed a seaward boundary of 10 1/2 miles. But in 1947 the State Legislature claimed ownership of all the submerged lands off Texas out to the edge of the continental shelf, a distance of perhaps 135 miles.

Louisiana's Legislature in 1938 decided the State's seaward boundary was 27 1/2 miles. But was that 27 1/2 miles from the shoreline of the land mass of Louisiana or 27 1/2 miles from the state's outermost island in the Gulf of Mexico, 10 1/2 miles from shore?

The representative that Louisiana sent up here to explain his state's case to the Senate, Atty. Gen. Fred S. LeBlanc, was helpless on the boundary question. He said he couldn't say what it was and that if the current legislation is approved by Congress the Supreme Court may have to decide.

"THE ONLY thing I did was my job," says U. S. Navy Comdr. Ann Bernatitus, 41, Exeter, Pa., of her work on Bataan and Corregidor, for which she has been awarded the Legion of Merit, 11 years after. A nurse, she was evacuated from Corregidor by submarine 48 hours before "The Rock" fell to the Japs. Now she is chief of nursing at U. S. Naval Hospital, Newport, R. I. (International)

Texas' former attorney general, Sen. Daniel, told the Senate last week that Texas' legal claim to submerged lands is really only 10 1/2 miles. That doesn't mean Congress couldn't later extend such a boundary. After listening to the statement of Daniel, Sen. Douglas, Illinois Democrat and an opponent of giving the submerged lands to the states, tackled Sen. Cordon, Oregon Republican, one of the supporters of the idea.

Douglas asked Cordon if he agreed with Daniel, that Texas' boundary should be only 10 1/2 miles. Cordon said he wouldn't agree or disagree. When Douglas then pressed him to explain just what Texas' legal boundary is, Cordon said Douglas would have to get the answer from the Supreme Court.

Before this country became a nation some of the colonies claimed jurisdiction over vast tracts of the sea. Virginia claimed it for 1,000 miles out from shore, New Hampshire for 100 miles.

It was Thomas Jefferson, when he was secretary of state in 1793, who proclaimed U. S. government jurisdiction over the sea out to a three-mile limit. He did this long before oil was thought of and for dealing with other nations.

Change Of Leadership In Russia Much Like Change Of Neighbors

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—International problems are like neighborhood problems, except they come in a larger size.

And foreign countries are like the neighbors who live on our own street—if they'd just stay consistent some kind of community peace is possible.

The change of executive leadership in the vast house of Russia reminds me of a change of neighbors in our town when I was a boy.

There was a little white house across the way owned by old Mr. Crabbe, the neighborhood grouch. He built a white picket fence around it, and the fence started right at the sidewalk.

Old Mr. Crabbe didn't like anybody and never asked anybody to like him. He visited no one. No one visited him. If the kids played in the street hit a baseball into old Mr. Crabbe's front yard, they didn't get it back. He ran out and grabbed it.

But we learned how to deal with him. We moved the game up the street, stayed out of his yard, and there was no more trouble.

Finally old Mr. Crabbe died and went to heaven. He probably got him a new little house in the suburbs and whenever the cherubs up there knock a baseball into the yard I suppose he still runs out and grabs it, just as he did on earth. If life doesn't change people much, how can death?

A new neighbor named Mr. Fuddle moved into the little white house across the way. He had a wife, two children, and a one-eared bulldog.

Well, at first, Mr. Fuddle seemed the nicest fellow you ever saw. So did the whole family. Right friendly.

"Of course, you kids can play in the street in front of my house," he said. "If the ball lands in the yard, just climb over the fence and get it. I'd tear that fence down except that—well, fences have their places."

His one-eared bulldog played with our dogs, his two kids joined in the ball game, and Mr. Fuddle even came out and batted himself a few times.

Then Mr. and Mrs. Fuddle fell to quarreling regularly. Never did find out what it was about. Some family difference over money, or how they wanted their kids raised.

This not only upset all the Fuddles. It had the whole neighborhood in an uproar.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuddle then started hollering at each other, the one-eared bulldog would race out and start biting our dogs. If we knocked a ball in the front yard, Mr. Fuddle would come out, pick it up and throw it at us. And the two Fuddle kids no longer joined in the game. Their parents would not let them. All they were allowed to do was to try to ambush us one at a time and try to knock our front teeth out.

Well, the Fuddles began calling the cops to break up our game, and the other neighbors began calling the cops to separate the fighting Fuddles, and soon everybody was saying:

"My, wasn't it a lot more peaceful when old Mr. Crabbe lived in that house? At least a soul knew where he stood. Nobody can figure out the Fuddles."

As I say, when I think of the change in Russia, I think of my old neighborhood. Old Mr. Stalin was, in many ways, like old Mr. Crabbe.

The new tenants of Soviet power—Malenkov and Co.—are making friendly noises. In fact, they are almost genial. But it remains to be seen whether they will give the world a longer stretch of peace than the Fuddles gave our community.

That's the trouble with new neighbors, little ones or big ones. Only time can prove the way

Sensational Hospital Tested Laxative Praised in Many Medical Journals MAY DO AWAY WITH ALL PRESENT LAXATIVES

93% Chronic Constipation Cases Conquered Easily This Safe, New Way

Extensive hospital tests of this new laxative formula on persons suffering from stubborn chronic constipation, reveal amazing results. It offers real hope to all—men, and women, young and old—even the aged and sick.

Doctors report such tremendous success that the INERTEL formula may actually do away with all present type laxatives.

Here are results of tests reported in the medical magazines on 378 men and women ranging in age from 10 to 90. All had suffered from acute cases of stubborn, aggravated constipation. Many were miserable, only as those who are tortured by persistent, continued, hard, sluggish bowel movements can be. Some were even bed-ridden!

93% Report Success
Within days 353 of the 378 ailing people report enjoying pleasant, regular, easy bowel movements without griping or irritation.

INERTEL is a tasteless tablet, absolutely safe and harmless. It is non-habit forming, non-toxic and non-irritating. INERTEL just can't be compared—in any way—with harsh, purging irritants, or nourishment-robbing mineral oils.

Here's How INERTEL Works
INERTEL is not a harsh, overnight purge. It is a medically approved bulk-producing laxative, that gently helps restore regularity. Only bulk laxatives were recommended in Reader's Digest famous article. INERTEL is water absorbent and changes to a soft, jelly-like substance. It lubricates and actually protects tender intestines, while softening all hard, stubborn substances, to bring pleasant, healthy elimination. Yes, even old, ailing people, and folks with hemorrhoids can take INERTEL with safety and confidence.

Doctors everywhere now prescribe the INERTEL formula as a safe, positive laxative for chronic constipation. Get INERTEL tablets today at

COASTAL COMPROMISE

CONGRESS HAS AGAIN put the machinery in motion to give coastal states undisputed title to offshore lands. The measure voted out by the Senate Interior Committee, however, leaves unsettled as many issues as it decides. Though it grants ownership as far as the states' "historic" boundaries—generally three miles out with the exception of Texas and West Florida where 10½-mile borders are claimed—the whole question of management and tax rights out to the end of the continental shelf remains unresolved.

The committee, backed by Attorney General Brownell, assigns control of the outer belt to the federal government, but the states with lush oil operations beyond the limit in sight will not accept the interpretation without a fight.

Here is evidence that there is never complete agreement over public lands. Dissatisfaction has long overhung the government's handling of the public domain in the Western states. Timber, grazing and mining interests are invariably seeking more favorable lease arrangements. Meanwhile states lose out because they are unable to levy taxes on federal lands.

That the federal government should continue to own land is anachronistic. Under the private enterprise system land should be owned by individuals. But states are more interested in the proposition of having the federal government pay taxes on its holdings, than in having them transferred to private ownership, except in the case of off-shore oil lands.

WAGES LEVELING OFF

SURVEYS INDICATE THERE will be no big industrial wage boosts this year except in isolated instances. Whereas the average of wage increases to big industrial unions averaged 15 cents per hour last year, boosts this year will represent less than half that, it is predicted.

For one thing, standard-of-living wages are now considerably ahead of the cost of living. The commodity index has risen only 0.6 per cent in a year. The leveling-off phase seems to be here.

There are hints of business recession sometime later, and employers will fight harder to keep their payrolls down. Big union members, having had a good wage boost year in 1952, are reported not to be putting much pressure on labor heads to demand big wage increases.

Now that a real effort is being made to control inflation, the employee may look forward to sizable wage boosts through an increased purchasing power for his dollar.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

When one goes among professors these days, it is startling to find that so many of them are jittery over the prospects of being called as witnesses before Congressional committees. Few are ever called. Not all are unfriendly witnesses; for instance, Dr. Harry D. Gideonse, president of Brooklyn College, Dr. William Jansen, superintendent of schools in New York City, Dr. Bella Dodd, former Communist, and Dr. William H. Withers, who had taught at Lehigh University, Teachers College of Columbia University, and Queens College, were friendly witnesses, aiding the Congressional committees with their expert knowledge.

Only those who have something to hide need fear these investigations.

Professor Withers testified that at one stage of his life, he was actually groomed to be a member of the Communist Party. He was then at New College, an institution for the education of teachers in which political activity was encouraged. He had joined the Teachers Union, he thinks, in 1935. He testified that "the Teachers Union was under Communist control at that time."

Dr. Withers was an active member of Local 537 of the Teachers Union situated at Teachers College. He testified before the Jenner Committee:

"... after 1937 I began to realize that the control of Local 537 was definitely Communist, and in 1939 a group of us who were non-Communists in Local 537 organized what we called an independent caucus, in which we attempted to defeat Communist propositions in the plenary sessions of the Union."

The value of Dr. Withers' testimony is that it confirms the pattern of deceit. It is not illegal for any man in this country to be a Communist; it is indecent to be deceitful. On this subject, Dr. Withers testified:

"... they did not usually admit publicly that they were Communists. In fact, officers of the union never admitted that. They attempted to follow a set of policies which presumably would be accepted by liberals generally. But nevertheless, their policies were always consistent with the Communist Party line."

"Senator (Willis) Smith. So the fact that members may not proclaim their identity as members of the Communist Party is no indication that they are not working as Communists wherever they are located?"

"Mr. Withers. That is true. In fact, it has often been a definite policy of the Communist Party to try to disguise membership, particularly in the case of a person who might be regarded as a front for the Communist Party. The higher up you are in the educational world, the greater the degree of reputation you have publicly, the less use you are to the Communist Party openly."

This statement was not made by a so-called witch-hunter; it was made by a professor of standing and experience who was speaking of his own knowledge. Had these Communist professors proclaimed themselves, they would have had little influence upon other teachers and perhaps upon their students. They posed as liberals.

Cancer Is the Disturbance Of Body's Normal Cell Growth

By HERMAN H. BUNDESEN, M.D.

NEXT to heart disease, cancer is at present the most frequent cause of death in the United States.

Actually, cancer is a disturbance of the normal growth of the cells that go to make up the different tissues of the body. Usually, these normal cells reproduce in an orderly manner, replacing the old ones when they are worn out. However, when cancer occurs, there is a wild, unlimited reproduction of the cells in the body. And as these wild uncontrolled cells reproduce in this unchecked manner, they cause destruction of the normal tissues.

May Spread

These wild cancer cells may spread to the blood vessels and may be transmitted by the blood vessels to other parts of the body, far separated from their origin. In its new location, the cancer grows as wildly as it did at the original site.

There are two general types of cancer. Cancer can occur in organs such as the rectum, mouth, intestines, or it can also occur in the tissues, such as the fat and ligaments that make up the supports of the body.

Many substances are thought to act as stimulants to the formation of cancer. Excessive exposure to sunlight, too great an intake of certain hormones, excessive exposure to X-ray or radium may all help to bring on a cancer. Certain coal tar and related products, when people are constantly near them, may also predispose to cancer. Overuse of tobacco may also lead to cancer.

Frequent Types

In men, probably the most frequent type of cancer is cancer of the stomach, and in women, cancer of the female organs is most common.

Cancers may be either slow-growing or may grow rapidly. Any abnormal symptoms occurring in a person of any age should be investigated by a physician. One thing about cancer is recognized—If caught early, it may be cured, so do not delay in consulting the doctor when symptoms occur. And persons past middle age should have an annual health audit or check-up, so if anything is developing, it can be discovered early.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

E. A. M.: I have a persistent itching around the rectum. Everything I have tried has failed. Have you any recommendations for treatment?

Answer: Usually itching of the rectum is relieved by a bland diet and the use of soft toilet tissue. The new anty-itching creams are extremely helpful in the treatment of this disorder. If these methods do not help, surgery sometimes may clear it up. Better see your doctor.

SYNOPSIS

Bill Canelli's acquaintance with Jane Nelson had been brief back there in Philadelphia, but for all that he'd fallen in love with the nice, demure Chicago night club girl. She had given him a key to her apartment, daring him to come to the Windy City and to use that key some time! And so he'd taken a leave from his sleuthing job in Philadelphia and he'd found him now seated alone at night in Miss Nelson's abode, impatiently awaiting her return from her night club chore. Here presently he is joined by a stranger, a white-faced, slender man who says that he too must see Miss Nelson tonight. As both men sit in sullen silence, the telephone rings and Bill springs to answer its summons. Over the wire pours Jane's voice, a terrified voice, saying that she is in trouble, trapped, managing to whisper a street address.

CHAPTER FIVE

HE WAS a tall thin man, the homicide cop, a red-head with pale freckled skin, and the manner of a slightly suspicious man clerk. His name was Devlin, and he did the routine things slowly and carefully. When he was through talking with the landlady, and examining Jane's body and her handbag, he said a few words to a uniformed cop and then put a hand on my arm and ushered me out into the corridor. The room was crowded enough by that time with print men, the coroner and two other uniformed cops. I was glad to get out; every time I looked at her body I felt something wild and ugly roaring through my head.

"You found her, eh?" he said. "You have a date with her, or something?" "You could call it that. I got into town this afternoon and went to her apartment. She called, said she was in trouble, and asked me to meet her here."

Devlin digested this, sorted it out. "You're not a native then?" "No, I'm from Philly."

"What kind of trouble was she in?" "She didn't say."

"How'd you happen to know her?" "I met her in Philly four months ago."

"See." He rubbed his long freckled jaw. "You liked each other pretty well, eh?" "Pretty well."

He nodded. "Well enough for you to make a thousand-mile trip to see her? Or did something else bring you to Chicago?"

"I came to see her."

"It wasn't no casual thing, eh?" "Of course not. We were soul-mates."

"Don't take it out on me," he said. "I'm doing a job. What kind of work do you do in Philly?" "I'm a bookkeeper."

"You don't look like one."

"Sometimes I have a pencil behind my ear. That helps."

Try, Stop Me

Raspy-voiced Comedian Tom Howard, of "Gay Nineties" fame, once starred in a musical directed by the late Ned Wayburn, a slave driver if ever there was one. After a final rehearsal that lasted fourteen hours straight, Ned hollered, "I still don't like that finale. Let's run through it once more." Tom disgustedly hollered, "Give me liberty or give me death!" "Who said that?" demanded Wayburn. "Patrick Henry," answered Howard. "He did, hey?" countered Ned, then roared, "Throw the bum out!"

An officious second looie, just arrived from the States as a replacement in Korea, barked to a tough sergeant, "This man is far too thin to be carrying heavy ammunition. Put him to work cleaning rifles." "Yes, sir," replied the sergeant. "Shall we push him through or pull him through?"

news behind the news

WASHINGTON, April 8 — Sen. Joe McCarthy's interference in diplomatic negotiations with Greek ship owners allegedly carrying goods to Russia has brought him into another showdown clash with the Republican leadership of the Senate. His own colleagues now resent his tactics.

This backstage row explains why President Eisenhower was so slow to engage in open and angry controversy with the Wisconsin firebrand over his invasion of the executive jurisdiction. The White House has been informed that, as in the Bohlen case, the Senate itself will restrict McCarthy's extracurricular performances.

When he was attacking government subversives, he was invulnerable because critics might open themselves to countercharges that they were Communist sympathizers. But he has lowered his guard in his more recent bouts.

FURIOUS—Whereas the Bohlen brawl led Senator Taft to line up against McCarthy, the Greek affair has embroiled the Wisconsin senator with an equally respected and redoubtable GOP leader—Sen. Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado, Senate Finance Committee chairman. Normally mild and taciturn, Millikin is furious over recent unparliamentary behavior.

He maintains that McCarthy's secret one-man crusades destroy orderly processes of government at the legislative and executive ends of Pennsylvania Avenue. In his opinion, they smack too violently of the methods of the Spanish Inquisition. They permit individual senators to level public charges against private citizens without a full inquiry and prior sanction for disclosures by responsible Senate agencies.

TO END ATTACKS—In short, the GOP leadership seeks to end the system under which a single member may use his Senate prestige to browbeat other branches of the government, and condemn fellow-Americans without a hearing.

They insist that they do not intend to curb proper study of executive policies, which was a popular Senate concern under Truman. They deny that they aim to protect the new Republican administration. They simply maintain that there is sufficient legislative machinery for orderly and responsible discharge of investigative duty.

PRECEDENTS — McCarthy's private deal with Greek maritime interests was too raw and revolutionary for even his Senate sympathizers. He admits that he made the nonbinding agreement without consulting fellow-committeemen. It was strictly a private adventure.

Although no senator in modern times has gone to such extremes in trespassing on the conduct of foreign affairs, there have been near-precedents. Many difficulties spring from denunciation of their commercial practices—coffee, oil, tin, etc.—by individual members, who had no authority to talk. They have kept relations in a turmoil that State was unable to quiet.

Foreign powers regarded the late William Edgar Borah as our real secretary of state, due to his prestige and profound pronouncements as foreign relations chairman. Anti-British and pro-German (he was a descendant of Martin Luther), his widely quoted statements in the thirties had a dynamic influence on world events. They encouraged Hitler,

Do-It-Yourself Fad Affects Whole World

International Trade Pattern Said Upset By New Philosophy

NEW YORK (AP)—The do-it-yourself fad sweeping the nation has its international counterpart. Do-it-yourself nations are messing up the old global trade patterns.

Just as the homeowner turns handyman over the week-end to become independent of costly services or to make things he cannot afford to buy, so are many nations—including our own in some fields—striving to do things for themselves.

The urge to be self sufficient has increased sharply since the last war. Nations seek to be free of the danger of having goods and services cut off by war or by whims of other countries. By doing it themselves they give the jobs and the profits to their own people, and supposedly they can give their own people cheaper goods.

American manufacturers and farmers have seen many former export markets shrivel in recent years.

Time was when British textile mills worked five days a week to help clothe other peoples of the globe, and the sixth day to clothe Englishmen.

Now many of Britain's former customers are self sufficient. India used to be a big market for British textiles. Now India is an exporter of textiles herself. U. S. textiles mills have seen their exports decline, too, but not as badly as the British.

Europe has been building oil refineries at a great rate since the war. It still has to import crude oil, but is much less dependent upon other lands for her gasoline and other oil products.

In fact, the loss of the Abadan refinery in the Iranian oil dispute has been practically made up by the opening of refineries in England and on the continent since Iran seized Abadan.

The United States before the war got its rubber from the Far East. War forced it to build synthetic rubber plants and to experiment with raising rubber-yielding plants. Reactivated after the Korean outbreak the synthetic plants are now so productive they hold down the price of Far East natural rubber—and cause loud squawks from the British and Dutch rubber planters.

Big Fat Pill Is Discovered To Prevent Radiation Ills

CHICAGO (AP)—A big fat pill costing about $4 probably would save you from radiation sickness or death from an A-bomb, scientists said today.

You'd have to take it, though, just before the bomb went off.

The king-size pill looks like the best practical bet so far to guard against radiation, the new element in A-bombs as compared with ordinary bombs.

The prospect was described today by scientists speaking in a news conference or presenting reports to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

The pill would weigh almost two ounces, for a 15-pound person. It would be smaller for someone smaller, still bigger for a fatty.

Wildcat Strike Closing Mills

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—United States Steel Corp. started banking the six blast furnaces at its Ohio works and McDonald plant today because of a wildcat strike by 100 employees on the railroad serving the plants.

Walkout on the Youngstown and Northern Railroad was staged Tuesday by switchmen and engineers belonging to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. The dispute involved pay, but details were not disclosed.

It would be made of cysteine, one of the amino acids or building blocks of proteins such as muscle, fat, nerves and other tissues.

Given to animals an hour or two before they're exposed to lethal X-rays, cysteine saves most of them. It apparently would do the same for humans.

Dr. Harvey M. Patt, one of the Atomic Energy Commission's Argonne National Laboratory here, said, "I would take it (cysteine) if an attack were imminent. But I wouldn't want to take a daily dose over a long period," for then the cysteine might damage body organs.

Cysteine costs about 8 cents a gram, which is 1-28th of an ounce. About 50 grams, or four dollars worth, would protect a person weighing 150 pounds, he estimated.

But, Dr. Patt added, if he knew an A-bomb were about to burst, "I'd run first, and worry about protection later."

The important thing about cysteine is that it is the first chemical which protects against both X-rays and neutrons, both of which come from A-bombs.

Merger Booked

DAYTON (AP)—Bonebrake Seminary Tuesday approved merger of the school with the Evangelical School of Theology at Reading, Pa. The merger will take place on the Dayton campus July 1, 1954.

Condemned Man Planning Appeal

BALTIMORE (AP)—George Edward Grammer, 36-year-old former New York office manager sentenced to hang for the murder of his wife, will take his case to the Maryland Court of Appeals at Annapolis.

Judge Herman Moser, who heard the case without a jury, imposed the death penalty yesterday in the slaying of Grammer's 33-year-old wife Dorothy last August. The State contended he did it because he loved another woman.

The prosecution charged Grammer beat his wife to death and then tried to cover it up with a faked automobile accident.

Russia Pushing Work In Science

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda said today the Soviet Union spent 47.2 billion rubles on science in the period of 1946-51. It called for further development of Soviet science and said new measures have been taken to expand scientific personnel.

(There is no normal exchange between the ruble and the dollar. The Russians have given the ruble an arbitrary value of 25 cents.)

SOUND WAVES are used to wash delicate bearings for high-precision gyroscopes for jets and bombers at the Minneapolis-Honeywell company. A worker places bearings in a beaker containing a special cleaning fluid (above). Later, high-intensity, ultrasonic sound waves will pass through the beaker as it is agitated, cleaning the bearings scientifically. (International)

McCarthy Seeks Data On Books

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) asked Secretary of State Dulles yesterday to name persons responsible for placing books by Communist authors in overseas libraries operated by the U. S. government in the cold war effort.

McCarthy's investigations subcommittee, investigating the overseas libraries, has heard testimony they contain books by more than 70 Communists.

Walkout Ends

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—Lev Loren, international representative of the AFL Pipefitters Union, said Tuesday normal operations at the $10 million expansion project in nearby South Point have resumed following a jurisdiction strike.

Two Endorsed

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cuyahoga County's Republican Policy Committee has endorsed William E. Minshall Jr., 41, for U. S. attorney here and Harry T. Lathy, 37, for U. S. marshal.

9,000 Refugees Fleeing Soviets

BERLIN (AP)—Almost 9,000 refugees from Soviet-occupied East Germany poured into West Berlin during the first week of April, official quarters reported last night. Yesterday's total of 2,145 arrivals was double the average daily influx.

Council Raises Firemen's Wages, Holds Bypass, Restaurant Issues

City Council Tuesday night saved three explosive issues for later consideration and finally disposed of another turbulent question by granting pay increases for the city fire department.

The lawmakers had said at their previous meeting that pay hikes for the firefighters would follow increases granted for the police department.

In urging Council to follow through on its promise without further delay, Councilman Joe Brink said the original plan was to have the two department wage scales boosted simultaneously.

Councilman George Crites at first suggested the firemen's pay boost be held for another meeting or two. However, he later yielded when Councilman Richard Penn supported Brink's views and the necessary ordinance sailed through on first reading.

Under the new scale, Fire Chief Talmer Wise will receive $3,300 a year, payable at $275 per month. Annual pay for regular firemen will be raised to $3,180, payable at $265 per month.

COUNCIL, HOWEVER, moved quickly and quietly over three major issues—including the dynamic question of the Route 23 bypass. Other questions set aside for later decision were those relating to closing hours for eating establishments in residential sections and a proposed merger of the city safety and service branches.

The latter measure, mentioned in

Council some time ago, was staging a somewhat sudden return performance with considerable discussion likely before the two departments are finally made to cooperate under the one head.

Hottest card in Council's deck for the last two meetings has been an ordinance proposing withdrawal of a western section of the corporation line. It has been described as the only major step required by the city in order to clear the way for state highway department surveys on the Route 23 bypass.

The ordinance at both sessions has been moved along in routine fashion with relatively little debate. The measure will be up for third and final reading at Council's next meeting April 21.

Many observers believed rival camps on the bypass issue would make their first all-out test of strength in Council on the second reading, rather than wait for the do-or-don't date two weeks hence. However, the anticipated fireworks failed to materialize, possibly because of the touchy reception given a related matter before the detachment ordinance was read.

Crites, acknowledged spokesman in Council for opponents of the bypass, said he had followed through on his threat to fight a petition submitted to the lawmakers in their last meeting. The petition, a necessary preliminary step in the withdrawal action, was signed by the owners of property which would be affected by the proposed bypass route.

BYPASS BOOSTERS said it represented majority consent. Crites claimed it didn't, and added that some of the property owners had been coerced into signing.

At Tuesday night's session, Crites submitted a counteracting petition in which five of the property owners asked that their names be withdrawn from the first petition. Bypass forces contend the first petition has been legally filed with Pickaway County Commissioners and the names can not be withdrawn.

Crites did not argue the legality of his petition, but succeeded in having Council accept it, without action on the request it represents.

Property owners asking that their names be withdrawn were: George Watson, Frank Smith, Elizabeth Smith, George R. Ramey and Norma J. Ramey.

When Crites first moved to have his petition placed on file, Penn shouted "no" in a voice vote.

Then Councilman John Robinson also signified he would oppose acceptance, and so did Councilmen Harold Clifton and Boyd Horn. Councilman Ray Cook, meanwhile, was demanding a roll call.

Cook declared he doubted whether the names could legally be withdrawn. However, he went along in favor of mere acceptance when it was made clear no action on the petition was to be taken by Council at that time. Penn refused to agree even to acceptance of the petition and cast the lone dissenting vote.

THE ORDINANCE regulating the hours of eating places in residential districts, although up for third reading, was held over for "further consideration" on a suggestion by Crites. Some persons whose businesses would be affected, he said, are out of the city and should be given an opportunity to express their views on the proposal if they wish.

It was tabled "until Council wishes to bring it up again."

The ordinance calling for merger of the city service and safety de-

Roy Morgan Of Monroe Wins 1953 County Spelling Contest

Roy Morgan, Monroe Township school eighth grader, Tuesday won the spelling championship title of Pickaway County during a contest in Jackson Township school.

Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Timmons, won the honor during competition with 14 other county elementary school pupils in the annual spelling contest.

However, the victory came only after Morgan had tied in the first test with Seventh Grader Tommy Walker of Jackson Township school.

Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Walker, and Morgan finished the written test of 50 words with only one miss each. Walker misspelled "matriculation" and Morgan fumbled on "maim."

MORGAN triumphed in the "spell-off," however, missing only one of the list of 10 "toughies" prepared by County Superintendent George McDowell.

The county champion speller will represent the county schools in a state spelling bee May 2 in Ohio State University. Walker will be alternate to the state test. Other elementary school pupils who participated in Tuesday's championship contest were:

JERRY LUX, grade six, Atlanta; Arthur Mershon, grade 8, Duval; Marvin Manbeavers, grade 8, New Holland; Benny O'Hara, grade 7, Salter Creek; Carolyn Stout, grade 8, Ashville; Bill Vogel, grade 8, Madison; Patricia Young, grade 7, Walnut; Virginia Paxton, grade 7, Williamsport; Janet Wolfe, grade 8, Darby; Joyce Hayslip, grade 7, Pickaway; Dora Lee Greene, grade 8, Scioto; Marlene Miller, grade 8, Wayne; and Bob McCain, grade 8, Washington.

Muhlenberg and South Bloomfield schools did not send representatives to the tests. Circleville schools are not competing in this year's spelling bee.

Business Booms COLUMBUS — Ohio retail stores sold more during January and February this year than during the same two months last year, Ohio State University says. Sales were up 7 per cent.

300,000 Ohio Kids Unlimber For Spring Sports Carnival

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—More than 300,000 kids are limbering up their muscles this week in preparation for the Ohio high school four-day spring sports carnival.

The annual carnival in track, baseball, golf and tennis will be climaxed by the state scholastic championships at Ohio State University's athletic plant, May 22-23.

Last year 868 baseball, 657 track, 116 golf and 58 tennis teams started down the long tournament trail, with only the elite getting into the Columbus finals. H. W. Emswiler, state high school athletic commissioner, estimated 32,008 boys were on the 1952 squads—and that the number "would be a bit higher for the current campaign."

Qualifiers in all sports will clear the also-rans from the stars who will battle for the state titles. But even before the sectional and district tests pop up next month, the youngsters will get in plenty of competition in dual meets and other competition.

Big preliminary track tests will be offered April 17-18 by the Mansfield Relays and April 24-25 by the 22nd Ohio Wesleyan Team Relays.

Defending state champs include: Class A baseball, Cincinnati Elder; Class B baseball, Beaver Creek; golf, Youngstown East; individual golf, Fritz Schmidt, Columbus University; and Fred Jones, Youngstown Rayen (kid); tennis singles, Barry McKay, Dayton Oakwood; tennis doubles, Don Hackney and Roy Davidson, Middletown; Class A track, Cleveland East Tech; Class B track, Belpre.

Scott's Scrap Book

THE EARLIEST ANIMALS TO FLY DEVELOPED THEIR WINGS BEFORE THEIR ENGINES.

AS IN MAN'S EFFORTS TO FLY THIS IS TRUE ABOUT THE PTERODACTYL. IT WAS LITTLE MORE THAN A GLIDER.

BLUE RIBBON, PRIZE, IS GIVEN TO THE WINNER OF THE RIBBON EMERSON WRITTEN BY THE KNIGHTS OF THE GARTER.

By R. J. Scott

He is in a strategic position not simply because he is able to introduce his ideas into class discussions or into his lecture, but he is primarily in a strategic position because after hours, after class hours, he can exercise a very important influence upon the ideas of students who gather around him.

"The typical action of the Communist teacher is to become a popular person with students, to curry favor with the students, to appear to be a person who is without sin and is always against sin, to be a person who is constantly fighting for what is idealistic."

"A lot of young people accept this view that the Communist teacher has of himself, and as a result become a part of what might be called a coterie of the Communist teacher. Then they begin to become active. They are gradually educated into Communist activity, and it is for that purpose that the Communist teacher is most useful to the Communist Party."

This is as complete an answer as I have yet seen on this subject.
